China To Free 12 Americans

FREED BY REDS—Mrs. Juanita Byrd Huang (above), was one of nine Americans granted exit permits yesterday by the Chinese Reds. Hopes Rise For Release Of 29 Others

GENEVA, Sept. 6 (AP)—Red China announced unexpectedly today she is ready to issue exit permits to 12 detained American civilians. It was the first positive result of five weeks of closed conferences on freeing 41 U. S. civilians held by the Chinese Communists.

Wang Ping-nan, Peiping's ambassador to Poland, made the announcement during his 13th meeting with U. Alexis Johnson, U. S. ambassador to Czechoslovakia. Wang said nine Americans, including four women and two young girls, can leave at once, while three others may leave as soon as they are able or willing.

29 Americans Still Held

Johnson made no comment on Wang's announcement. Another member of the U. S. delegation said Johnson will continue to hold out for release of the other 29 Americans, 25 of whom are in Chinese prisons. Four others are under house arrest. The two ambassadors agreed to continue their talks Saturday.

In Washington, the State Department hailed Wang's announcement as a possible first step "in the return of all the Americans in China.

While the United States has presented the Reds with a list of 41 detained American civilians, it believes there may be more than a score of others.

Girl, 10, May Leave

Wang listed these Americans for immediate departure:

Miss Emma Angelina Barry, 10, who has been living in Shanghai with her mother, a white Russian who is not an American citizen.

Ralph Sharples Boyd, 64, who represented an American syndicate in China. He was born in Washington, D. C., and his present home address was given as Takoma Park, Md., a Washington suburb.

Mrs. Juanita Byrd Huang, 51, a Southern Baptist missionary married to a Chinese citizen. Mrs. Huang formerly taught in a missionary school. She is a native of Mount Olive, Miss.

Robert Howard Parker, 82, a retired businessman and native of Philadelphia. He has lived in China since he was 10.

Istanbul Swept By Violent Riots Against Greeks

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Sept. 6 (AP)—Violent anti-Greek rioting exploded in Istanbul tonight.

Tens of thousands of young Turks roamed through the city, smashing Greek store windows, wrecking store interiors and overturning automobiles.

The rioting erupted after a stick of dynamite exploded near the Turkish consulate in the Greek city of Salonika. More than two hours after the outbreak began, mobs still charged through the streets bent on destruction.

The crowds attempted to set one big Greek Orthodox Church afire but were driven off by police and firemen.

Infantry Moves In

At the height of the disorder, hundreds of Turkish infantrymen with fixed bayonets moved into the center of the city.

The Turkish rage apparently was touched off by reports here that the birthplace of the late Kemal Ataturk was damaged in the Salonika dynamiting. Ataturk, father and first president of the Turkish republic, is the country's national hero.

The mobs met no resistance from store owners and the police were hopelessly outnumbered.

Istanbul army headquarters said it had called out one division of infantry, an armored brigade and a number of marine units to bring the rioting under control. But there was no immediate letup in the violence and destruction.

Bridges Blocked Off

Armed marines blocked off both bridges across the Golden Horn which divides the two sections of the city. They also threw a cordon around the Greek Orthodox patriarchate on the left bank of the Golden Horn.

All small boats which shuttle thousands of commuters about the city were halted. Ferry service connecting the European section of the city with the Asiatic quarter across the Bosporus also ceased.

Hurricane Flora Far From Coastline

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 6 (AP)—Hurricane Flora was caught in an area of light steering winds tonight and slowed to a crawl but still packed winds of 100 miles an hour.

The hurricane, now grown to good size, was centered some 520 miles east of Bermuda and far from the American coastline. Its forward speed was only 8 miles an hour. At 5 p.m. the eye was near latitude 31.8 north and longitude 55.5 west.

TRICKS GUARD—Wilbert Coffin, 44, convicted murder from Gaspe, Que., faked a stomach ache and used a gun fashioned from soap to break out of the Quebec City Jail yesterday. Revision Of GI Insurance Sale Rules Proposed

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 (AP) — A House subcommittee said today the Defense Department has fallen down on its responsibility to protect servicemen from the operations of unscrupulous insurance salesmen.

It called upon the department to revise immediately some of its regulations governing the sale of insurance to GIs both at home and overseas, saying that unless action is taken it will propose corrective legislation when Congress meets again.

The group, an Armed Services subcommittee headed by Rep. Hebert (D-La), has been investigating what its report termed "laxity, abuses and misconduct of agents and companies" selling insurance to servicemen.

It has been particularly critical of the operations by some smaller companies in the European theater.

Noting that present regulations require the commanding officer of an installation overseas to license companies and agents operating within his command, the subcommittee said this requires him to be "a local insurance commissioner, with none of the facilities to do that job." It continued:

"To place such a duty upon a military field commander is, we think, an abdication of responsibility by the Department of Defense. It follows too literally 'Rule 4—pass the buck and always downward'. . ."

The 11-man group recommended unanimously that the secretary of defense "accept promptly" an offer by the Assn. of Insurance Commissioners to provide the department with a five-man advisory board which would review the qualifications of companies seeking to operate at overseas bases. This board would then provide "a certified list upon which an overseas commander can rely," the subcommittee said.

It recommended also that no agent be licensed to sell insurance to servicemen overseas unless he has had a year's satisfactory service in this country, as judged by his company and the insurance authorities of his state.

One Killed, 68 Survive Crash Of Huge Plane

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Sept. 6 A huge, four-engined C124 Globemaster with 69 men aboard crashed on takeoff today at Kirtland Air Force Base and was destroyed by flames. One man was killed, one seriously injured and 67 miraculously escaped injury or suffered only minor injuries.

The Air Force transport, from Biggs AFB, El Paso, Tex., apparently had gone almost the full length of the runway when it skidded for several hundred feet and pancaked on the shoulders of the runway. It burst into flames almost immediately.

The passengers and crewmen scrambled out of the plane.

Some were given first aid treatment at the scene while firemen battled the flames.

The one victim, whose name was withheld pending notification of next of kin, still was in the plane two hours after the crash. Efforts to reach his body were thwarted by the intense heat.

Poll Of '52 Demo Delegates Gives Lead To Stevenson

CHICAGO, Sept. 6 (AP) — The Chicago Daily News today said a poll of delegates to the 1952 Democratic National Convention gives Adlai E. Stevenson the lead among possible contenders for the party's 1956 presidential nomination.

But the copyright story by Charles B. Cleveland also said the poll indicates Stevenson could not be nominated again "without a bitter struggle for delegates."

Questionnaires were sent to the 1,641 delegates to the Democratic 1952 convention — including some who split their votes with others to make the total cast 1,230.

More than 30 per cent of those polled, the news said have responded thus far.

The questions and responses published by the News today were:

Who is your choice for Democratic nominee for president in 1956?

Stevenson 39.5 per cent.
Sen. Kefauver 22 per cent.
Sen. Russell 11.5 per cent.
Gov. Harriman 10 per cent.
Others 17 per cent.

Regardless of your own personal choice, whom do you think the convention will nominate?

Stevenson 65 per cent.
Gov. Harriman 21 per cent.
Sen. Kefauver 6 per cent.
Others 7 per cent.

The News said a projection of its returns in terms of convention vote shows: Stevenson 485, Kefauver 271, Russell 142, Harriman 123.

On the first ballot in 1952 Stevenson had 273 votes, Kefauver 340, Russell 268, Harriman 123. Stevenson won on the third ballot with 617, one more than the minimum required.

Indicted Pair Denies Killing Negro Boy, 14

Trial Date Will Be Set Tomorrow; Men Do Not Ask Bond

SUMNER, Miss., Sept. 6 (AP)—Two white men pleaded innocent today when arraigned on indictments charging them with kidnaping and murdering a 14-year-old Negro boy from Chicago who allegedly whistled at a white woman.

Roy Bryant, 24, and J. W. Milam, 35, his half-brother, denied they killed Emmett Louis Till.

Circuit Judge Curtis Swango Jr. said he will set the trial date Thursday morning.

Sheriff H. C. Strider said, "We expect to try them in this term of court." The three-week term began yesterday.

Indicted By Grand Jury

The men did not ask for bond because of the nearness of the trial and were taken to the Tallahatchie County Jail in nearby Charleston.

The Tallahatchie County grand jury, composed of white men, indicted the men on kidnaping and murder charges earlier today.

Murder carries a maximum sentence of death, with a minimum of life in prison. The kidnapping statute under which they were indicted provides a maximum 10-year prison term.

Body Pulled From River

Till's body, a bullet in his head and a 100-pound cotton gin fan tied to his neck to weight him down, was pulled from the Tallahatchie River Wednesday.

The boy was kidnaped three days earlier from his uncle's home where he was spending a planned two-week vacation that ended in death after one week.

Young Till allegedly whistled or made "ugly remarks" to Mrs. Bryant, wife of the Money storekeeper.

Sheriff George Smith of Leflore County said the men admitted taking Till from his uncle's home but said they released him unharmed.

Returnee Says He Is German, Not American

BERLIN, Sept. 6 (AP)—U. S. officials announced tonight that an alleged American released by the Russians now claims to be a German named Klaus Frederick Glaubitz. But the officials said they are unsatisfied with his story.

The man in question was released yesterday by the Soviets under the name of Charles Frederick Hopkins, along with two soldiers who had been held in captivity for seven years.

Since then Hopkins has been in the hands of U. S. intelligence officers. The Berlin command issued a statement tonight which said:

"A man who was released by Soviet authorities in Berlin to U. S. officials Monday has claimed to be Klaus Frederick Glaubitz, a German national.

"He had been released by the Soviets under the name of Charles Frederick Hopkins, an American national. He says that he is 27 years old and that he has been in Soviet hands since 1947. U. S. authorities are continuing to check his story and status."

Officers commented that the questioning showed that Hopkins-Glaubitz spoke excellent English in a manner that few Germans learn. They added that the man also is obviously older than he claims and the details of his capture by the Russians seem vague.

Three Die In Crash Of Flying Boxcar

ALEXANDRIA, La., Sept. 6 (AP)—A C119 Flying Boxcar crashed near here today shortly after taking off from the England Air Force Base. Three persons died in the crash and three others were critically injured.

Officers at the base said the plane appeared to have developed engine trouble on the take off.

The big plane had six persons aboard.

England Air Force Base officials said the names of the victims were being held up pending notification of next of kin.

Bicyclist, 69, Killed

FERNDALE, Md., Sept. 6 (AP) — A 69-year-old man on a bicycle was hit and killed by an automobile on Alternate U.S. 301 about a mile south of the Ferndale Police Station tonight.

He was identified as James Bliilizzi (1st block, Clifton Avenue) of Ferndale. The accident happened near his home.

Doomed Slayer Of Hunter Flees Prison, Returns

QUEBEC, Sept. 6 (AP) — Wilbert Coffin, who is to be hanged this month for the murder of a teenage Pennsylvania hunter, tricked his guards with a gun made of soap and escaped from the Quebec Jail for an hour and a half today.

His lawyer persuaded him to surrender. He went back to his cell weeping and protesting he fled the jail to prove he was not a bad man and a murderer.

Coffin, 44, a prospector from the Gaspe bush country of Quebec, has been sentenced to death for the killing of Richard Lindsey, 17, of Hollidaysburg, Pa., in June, 1953.

Two Others Killed

Young Lindsey's father, Eugene, 47, and Albert Claar, 19, his companions on a bear hunt, also were slain, but Coffin was tried only for the boy's murder. The Supreme Court of Canada last week refused Coffin permission to appeal the death sentence. Only a Federal Cabinet reprieve now can save him from the gallows in Montreal's Bordeaux jail Sept. 23.

A Quebec Attorney General's Department spokesman said that about 1 a.m. Coffin feigned a stomachache to lure a guard into his cell with medicine. Another prison employe entered the cell and both men, threatened with the realistically carved soap gun, were locked in by Coffin.

Other Guards Locked In

As he fled from the jail, Coffin encountered three more guards, threatened them with the "revolver" and ordered them into a cell, too.

He hailed a taxi driven by Gaston LaBrecque and directed it to the Quebec bridge. En route, Coffin told LaBrecque who he was and asked the address of Raymond Maher, the lawyer who defended him at his trial last year at Perce, Que. LaBrecque telephoned his office for the address and drove Coffin to Maher's home.

There Coffin agreed to go back to the jail with Maher and surrender. About 2:30 a.m. he gave up.

Marine Captain Wins $32,000 In TV Quiz

NEW YORK, Sept. 6 (AP) — A crew-cut Marine captain with a shy grin tonight won $32,000 on a television quiz show by trotting out his encyclopedic knowledge of food and cooking.

Tall, handsome Capt. Richard McCutchen of Worthington, Ohio, knocked off a complicated five-part question about fancy desserts —what they're made of and where they originated.

Thus he qualified for a try next week at $64,000, top prize on the CBS TV show "The $64,000 Question." If he chooses, he can take his $32,000 and quit. If he tries and misses, he loses all but a consolation prize of an expensive automobile.

No contestant on the show has yet tried for $64,000. Two have won $32,000 and stopped.

Ex-Soldier, AWOL For 2½ Years, All Square With Army

NEW YORK, Sept. 6 (AP)—William F. Lydon's 27 year long hangover lifted today. The ex-soldier was all square with the Army — and his own conscience — over deserting the service in 1928.

Because the offense was long outdated and forgotten, the First Army turned loose the 59-year-old Lydon 24 hours after he gave himself up at Governors Island because his conscience bothered him.

Said Lydon, a Park Avenue apartment doorman, as he went free:

"I have a very clear conscience and I'm glad I did what I did. I'm all clear and free. I feel fine. The Army treated me very nicely. I'm going to get a discharge from Washington and it's going to be a good one."

'Gladys' Causes Floods In Texas

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., Sept. 6 (AP) — Families fled their flooded homes tonight in some parts of the Texas Gulf Coast as the backlash of tropical storm Gladys set off rains of almost cloudburst size.

The Coast Guard was busy rescuing sportsmen and seeking missing vessels.

The storm itself was breaking up tonight in Mexico's mountains but weathermen were watching a new area of potential danger—a trough of low pressure stretching from Mexico's Yucatan Peninsula nearly to Florida.

Worst flooding appeared at Corpus Christi, where several families were evacuated. The skies dumped 5.17 inches of rain into the downtown area. Unofficial reports said eight inches fell in some parts of that major coastal city. Up to six inches fell on the vast King Ranch in the general area.

Some water was backing up into the Corpus Christi business district.

Worst suffering, however, appeared to be in Mexico City, where several square miles of workers homes were inundated by rains. Adobe homes with residents on their roofs were crumbling from the water.

Actor Paul Muni, 59, Loses His Left Eye To Surgery

NEW YORK, Sept. 6 (AP)—Actor Paul Muni, 59, lost his left eye to surgery today because of a tumor, but his right eye was reported normal.

The tumorous eye was removed in an operation at Mt. Sinai Hospital.

The actor, one of the most widely acclaimed performers on Broadway and in Hollywood, dropped out of the Broadway dramatic hit, "Inherit The Wind," just a week ago.

He had complained of pain and failing eyesight. A diagnosis disclosed the tumor—a growth that in a malignant state is cancerous and in a benign state is noncancerous. There was no immediate report on the nature of Muni's tumor.

An understudy filled in for Muni until Sept. 2. Then the show closed to give Muni's replacement, Melvyn Douglas, a chance to rehearse the role before taking over for the stricken star. The show is scheduled to reopen Sept. 17.

Muni reportedly hopes eventually to resume the role—which is based on Atty. Clarence Darrow's spectacular defense in the Scopes "monkey trial" of 1925.

Muni had ended six years of retirement to star in "Inherit The Wind," because he was impressed by the breadth of the role offered him. Darrow was one of America's great criminal lawyers and in the Scopes trial he brilliantly defended a man's right to teach the theory of evolution.

After the operation, Muni's personal physician, Dr. A. Allen Goldbloom, pronounced the actor's general condition good and his heart sound.

U. S. To Shelve Its Pre-Geneva Arms Cut Plans

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Sept. 6 (AP)—The United States today served notice it has put all its pre-Geneva disarmament plans into a diplomatic deep freeze. In the future it will concentrate on President Eisenhower's aerial inspection program laid down at Geneva in July.

An American source of authority said Harold E. Stassen, President Eisenhower's disarmament adviser, called on the U. N. Disarmament Committee members to prepare and present post-Geneva positions upon the problems of inspection and control.

Open Bid To Soviets

Stassen was reported to have added that this post-Geneva position should include a response to President Eisenhower's plan for a beginning on disarmament based on effective inspection and controls.

This was an open bid to the Soviet delegate, Arkady A. Sobolev, to state Moscow's position on the Eisenhower plan but Sobolev remained silent.

The announcement of the turn in American planning on disarmament came as the subcommittee of the United States, France, Britain, Canada and Russia began its second week of work. It is considering the changes in the governmental positions in view of the Geneva conference of the Big Four. Stassen's declaration was the first indication that Washington has decided on a fresh approach to the old question.

Stassen Urges New Study

Authoritative American sources said it has been agreed by the United States and the Soviet Union that it is impossible to devise a system which would account for all nuclear material. This means that a bomb containing nuclear material in its casing may be in one room of a building and the best scientific devices cannot detect it from the other side of the building.

Stassen was reported to have told the subcommittee that the United States feels, in view of the important changes in weapons and other aspects, a new study of the entire inspection problem will be most productive.

Billion Dollar Spending Cut Pentagon Aim

Would Erase Most Of Forecast Deficit Projected Savings

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 (AP)—Highly placed administration sources said today the Pentagon is trying to cut a billion dollars out of its current defense spending program, in line with a government-wide drive to achieve a balanced budget this year.

This, if accomplished, would wipe out most of the $1,700,000,000 deficit forecast for the fiscal year ending next June 30, and would change the current upward trend of government spending.

It was learned that Secretary of Defense Wilson held an "old fashioned revival" conference on economy last Thursday at Boyne City, Mich., where he is vacationing. Top service aides were there.

The composition of the conference, it was said here, indicated:

1. That the Air Force — which is the biggest defense spender — was being asked to find the biggest single chunk of the savings.

2. That much, if not most, of the projected saving would come from reduced spending on military equipment between now and next June 30.

Economies Had Been Forecast

The reported effort toward a billion dollar cut in defense outlays comes on top of defense economies of some $1,750,000,000 already forecast for this fiscal year. In his January budget message, President Eisenhower estimated the Defense Department would spend that much less than the total allocated to the department for its fiscal 1956 outlays.

Wilson held his economy conference a week after Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey told a news conference that the government "should and can" balance the federal budget this fiscal year.

Humphrey made his statement in connection with release of the mid-year budget review, which officially predicted a red ink total for the year of $1,700,000,000 — 700 millions less than the deficit predicted last January.

Joint Statement

A joint statement by Humphrey and Budget Director Rowland Hughes, made along with the budget review, said:

"It does seem that enough more unnecessary expenditures can be found so that with care and close planning, a reduction of only 3 per cent in expenditures can be properly made while continuing to strengthen our military security and without lessening in any appreciable degree the proper standards of service which should be rendered to the public . . .

Barring some unforeseen development, we think that we should, and that we can, balance the budget this year."

Town Menaced By Forest Fire

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6 (AP)—A huge backfire was started today in an already flaming California forest to protect a city of about 5,000 people from the blazing menace.

A great "fire storm," described as the worst in the history of the Klamath National Forest, burned within 15 miles of Yreka in north central California.

Fire fighters set a new fire along Humbug Ridge in an effort to check the flames.

Throughout northern and central California forest and brush fires burning over more than 85,000 acres blazed out of control.

More than 3,000 men, hundreds of pieces of ground equipment and a dozen planes fought the fire.

The worst fire was in the Haystack region of the Klamath National Forest where flames roared over an estimated 20 to 30 thousand acres. The fire was so fierce fire fighters said it couldn't be controlled until it burned itself out.

Haystack is a community at the confluence of the Klamath and Trinity Rivers.

Pennsylvania Flood Death Toll Now 102

STROUDSBURG, Pa., Sept. 6 (AP)—The death toll in northeastern Pennsylvania's disastrous floods last month reached 102 today. Five more bodies were identified in the hard hit Stroudsburg area. All were victims of the region's greatest single tragedy—the wiping out of Davis Camp, a private holiday retreat, with the loss of at least 38 lives.

Three persons still are listed officially as missing in the state.

Biggest Scholarship Program Is Set Up

20½-Million Dollar Corporation Formed

CHICAGO, Sept. 6 (AP)—A multi-million dollar scholarship program to finance the college education of the nation's most talented high school seniors was announced today. Sponsors said it was the biggest undertaking of its kind in history.

A 20½-million dollar corporation, financed largely by the Ford Foundation, has been founded to handle the program. If expected contributions from private industry materialize, the corporation expects to award 1,000 to 5,000 scholarships a year within five years.

In the first year, beginning in the fall of 1956, the corporation's own funds and contributions from industry will provide about 350 scholarships, worth approximately 2 million dollars.

Details of the program were told at a news conference by officers of the newly-founded National Merit Scholarship Corp. of Evanston, Ill.

"It is a talent search on a large scale," said Laird Bell, a Chicago attorney who is chairman of the corporation's board of directors.

"About one-half of the superior students in our high schools do not go to college. This seems to be a national waste. Several foundations have been studying the problem. The Ford Foundation finally crystallized its ideas into this National Merit Scholarship Corp."

Of its capital, Bell said, the corporation will spend 1 million dollars a year for 10 years on four-year scholarships for talented students and payments to the colleges they choose to attend.

An additional 8 million dollars is available as matching funds for contributions by private industry.

All of the above 18 million dollars was provided by the Ford Foundation. An additional 2½ million dollars for administrative expenses—including the salaries of the corporation's employes and the cost of finding the nation's most talented students—was given by the Ford Foundation and the Carnegie Corp. of New York.

Nixon Says GOP Needs Overall Campaign Plan

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 (AP)—Republican state chairmen gathered here today to study how to win elections, and most of them seem to think they had a quick answer: President Eisenhower on the 1956 GOP ticket.

Vice President Nixon told a vanguard of about 25 chairmen in town for a three-day campaign school that the Republicans must have an over all national campaign plan that can be used effectively at the state and local level.

"There has been some lack of coordination in the past," Nixon said. "Most of this was due to misunderstanding and lack of information. I think it is an excellent idea to strengthen the Republican party organization in this way.

"We can't build a strong national party unless we build first a strong local party.

Representative chairmen made it clear that most of the group expects Eisenhower to run again and to be re-elected.

John Feikens, Michigan state chairman, said in an interview he doesn't believe Eisenhower would have invited the 48 state leaders to fly to Denver and confer with him Saturday if he wasn't going to run.

Feikens said a new Michigan law puts candidates for national and state offices on the same ballot in that state again for the first time in several years.

"With President Eisenhower running, the fact that we will have a consolidated ballot will help our other Republican candidates materially," Feikens said.

President Calls Conference On Physical Fitness

DENVER, Sept. 6 (AP)—President Eisenhower, who keeps trim through plenty of outdoor exercise, today arranged a Sept. 27-28 conference here to get more of America's youth actively engaged in athletics.

And on another front, the President was pictured as favorably impressed by a proposal that this country spend substantially more money to tell the story of its world peace objectives to the peoples of Russia and other Communist nations.

That proposal was placed before Eisenhower at his vacation headquarters here by Theodore C. Streibert, chief of the United States Information Agency.

Streibert later told a news conference that his agency's program ought to be stepped up because:

1. Russia's more friendly attitude lately opens up a good opportunity to put across America's ideas regarding peace "with freedom and justice."

2. The cold war struggle—free world ideals versus the Communist ideology—"still is going on unabated in Asia under the influence of Red China."

3. Basically, there has been no change anywhere in the goal of international communism — world domination.

The purpose of the conference Eisenhower called here for Sept. 27-28 is to map ways of solving "a serious problem"—how to build the physical fitness of America's youth.

The situation was termed "serious" by Vice President Nixon, who will preside at the two-day meeting at Lowry Air Force Base, Eisenhower's headquarters. The President himself will receive the conferees' recommendations and speak briefly at a dinner concluding the sessions.

Holiday Deaths Under Record

[By The Associated Press]

At least 438 persons died in traffic accidents as American motorists celebrated the three-day Labor Day weekend, exceeding advance predictions but fell somewhat short of the record toll for a Labor Day holiday.

An additional 80 persons drowned and 90 died in miscellaneous accidents for an over-all 608, also somewhat short of the record. The toll was kept from 6 p.m. local time Friday to midnight Monday.

The record of 461 traffic deaths and record over-all death toll of 658 both were set in 1951. Last year's traffic death toll was 364, far below the 1955 mark.

The holiday death toll also was well above that of a nonholiday weekend tabulated two weeks ago for comparative purposes. An Associated Press survey of deaths during the Aug. 19-22 weekend showed 385 traffic deaths, 67 drownings and 85 violent deaths from miscellaneous causes, for a total of 537.

The National Safety Council had predicted 400 would die in traffic accidents. Tuesday Ned H. Dearborn, council president, said the fact that the toll was below the record "is of small comfort to anyone who sincerely believes that this wholesale slaughter on the highways need not and must not be tolerated."

Hopes Rise

Howard Lischke Ricks, 66, a native of Boscobel, Wis. Two of his brothers in Boscobel said today he had lived in China 40 years and operated automobile distributor agencies for General Motors and later for Ford.

Ricks' wife, 61, born in Shanghai of British parents. The Chinese Reds said in earlier talks in Geneva in June, 1954, the Ricks had withdrawn a previous request for exit permits.

Miss Eva Scella Dugay, 62, a nun called Sister Theresa at the Roman Catholic Carmelite Convent in Shanghai. She has been ill, and repeated efforts in the past to get an exit permit for her have been rejected by the Chinese.

Mrs. Nadesha M. Romanoff, a White Russian who lived at Harbin, Manchuria, and who became a naturalized American citizen in 1937.

Mrs. Romanoff's daughter, Miss Irene N. Romanoff, 15.

Wang listed three other Americans who he said can leave whenever they ask for exit visas or are willing to depart:

Bishop James Edward Walsh, 62, the last American Catholic bishop still in China. He is a brother of Judge William C. Walsh of Cumberland, Md., a former attorney general of Maryland. Bishop Walsh was the first American Catholic bishop for China.

Mrs. Peter Huizer. The State Department said she was born Marcella Eileen Munsterman at Walcott, Ind. The Chinese Reds said her husband, a Dutchman, was manager of the Shanghai branch of the Bank of America.

Charles Sydney Miner, who was Shanghai representative of several American companies including the American Asiatic Underwriters, Metropolitan Land Co., and the C. V. Starr Enterprises.

10 Envoys Visit Red Atom Plant

MOSCOW, Sept. 6 (AP)—Ten ambassadors drove 66 miles southwest of Moscow today on an unprecedented visit to the Soviet Union's pioneer atomic energy station.

Included in the group were U. S. Ambassador Charles Bohlen and the envoys of Britain, Sweden, Burma, Mexico, Argentina, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Albania and North Viet Nam.

Other diplomatic groups were expected to make the trip later.

The atomic energy station is housed in a light yellow stucco building with one high smokestack located in a flat rural countryside of fields and woods.

The Russians say the two-storied structure is the world's first power plant devoted to peaceful uses of atomic energy.

Diplomats who visited it today said it was not near any big industrial plants and there was no indication whether its claimed output of 5,000 kilowatts was actually being used.

Radio Time Offered GOP To Answer HST

NEW YORK, Sept. 6 (AP)—The American Broadcasting Co. today offered free radio time for a Republican reply to former President Harry S. Truman's Labor Day speech in Detroit.

The network, acting on a request by GOP Chairman Leonard Hall, suggested Vice President Richard Nixon as the Republican spokesman, or "if he is unavailable, one of the leading representatives of the Republican party."

Hundreds View Slain Boy's Body

CHICAGO, Sept. 6 (AP)—Hundreds turned out today for a last look at Emmett Till, 14-year-old Negro lad who was slain while on a visit to Mississippi.

Police estimated 2,000 persons gathered in and outside the Roberts Temple Church of God in Christ in the South Side Negro section.

Young Till's body has been at the church since Saturday, when the burial had been scheduled. But the lad's mother, Mrs. Mamie Bradley, postponed it until today. She explained she wanted more time for others to "see what they did to my boy."

Mrs. Bradley seemed to collapse when she approached the opened casket for the last time. She was helped to a seat, and she screamed requests for pictures of her son. The photographs had been attached to the casket. They were retrieved for her.

64 New Polio Cases In Massachusetts

BOSTON, Sept. 6 (AP)—Sixty four new cases of polio were reported today in Massachusetts—center of a New England-wide outbreak.

The Massachusetts total, which included some reported over the holiday weekend, hiked the state count for the year to 2,338 compared to 345 a year ago.

The total for the six New England states mounted to 3,186 cases (677 last year) with Connecticut running second to Massachusetts with 351 cases to date compared to 163 last year.

The 64 cases reported in Massachusetts was seven under the number reported last Tuesday.

More than 100 public schools have postponed their fall opening two weeks due to the summer outbreak, although the State Health Department has not favored the measure as a polio preventive. Most Massachusetts schools were due to open this Wednesday.

Truman Against Tax Slash Now

TOLEDO, Ohio, Sept. 6 (AP) — "There is no way to cut taxes and balance the budget," former President Harry S. Truman said here today, and added that he is against tax cuts at this time.

Truman criticized what he said were plans of the U. S. secretary of the Treasury to lower federal income taxes next year, declaring that the time to reduce the national debt is when the nation is prosperous.

(Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey has said the U. S. should and can balance the budget, and he only recently said it's entirely too early for tax-cutting talk.)

"Demagoguery is not going to balance the budget," Truman told a news conference prior to a non-partisan speech to about 500 at a luncheon to raise funds for the $1,750,000 Truman Library. The Library will house Truman's papers at Independence, Mo., his home city.

Contractor Charged With Wife's Murder

HANOVER, Mass., Sept. 6 (AP)—A prosperous 34-year old contractor was charged today with the murder of his 30-year old, red-haired, estranged wife whose body was found in a culvert yesterday under tons of gravel and rock.

Dominick Bonomi was locked up tonight in the police station at Scituate adjoining this rural southeastern Massachusetts town where the body was found.

An anonymous tip sent police to the culvert at the end of a road which Bonomi's firm recently built. They found a blue-socked foot protruding from a truckload of newly poured gravel.

Red Light Gives Airliner's Crew Bad 40 Minutes

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 (AP) — A plane with 55 passengers circled over National Airport for 40 minutes early today because the crew mistakenly thought the landing gear had failed to lower.

A control panel light in the cabin of the Capital Airlines DC4 showed red—indicating the wheels were up—instead of green. The plane kept circling until the growing daylight permitted ground crews to see the gear was down.

A passenger, Mrs. Rose Marie Taylor of Washington, who boarded the plane at Pittsburgh, said no word of the difficulty was given to the passengers, although "you could tell there was something wrong the way the plane circled and banked."

Record Heat, Smog Plague Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 6 (AP)—Record 102-degree heat and the longest smog alert yet plagued Los Angeles this seventh straight day of 100-and-higher temperatures.

The 102-degree reading at 2:27 p.m. topped by two degrees the 64-year-old record for the date. It was 19 degrees above the normal Sept. 6 maximum, 83.

The forecast for tomorrow: 104 here. The worst heat wave ever here is expected to continue for several days. So far, it has caused 59 deaths and millions in crop and livestock damage.

The smog alert, during which all outdoor burning is forbidden, lasted 3 hours and 46 minutes. It was called at 10:56 a.m. by the County Air Pollution Control District when the ozone concentration reached .51 part per million in the Vernon industrial area. At 11:15 it reached a high of .56.

Visiting Officials Hamper U.S. Diplomats In Europe

By STAN SWINTON

ROME, Sept. 6 (AP)—The flood of official visitors from the United States has grown so great American diplomats in Europe say they can't get their work done.

Since many of the visitors are congressmen or influential politicians, the diplomats won't air their complaints in public. Privately they say the problem of visiting firemen is causing them serious concern.

The U.S. Embassy in Rome, for example, has 416 official visitors due this month, and more names are coming in with every mail. Some days there will be more visitors due VIP treatment than there are embassy officials to give it to them individually.

Information from other European capitals indicates the situation is almost the same there. But Rome, "the" place to visit this year, and Paris always a mecca, are the most popular, with Moscow a very close third.

Each visitor entails hours of work. He must be met at the airport in an official car and escorted into town. Usually he wants a briefing on developments. This ties up several embassy staff members, sometime for several hours.

Many expect to be entertained and shown about town. Friends estimate that in Rome U.S. Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce spent at least $50,000 of her own money plus her $15,000 entertainment allowance last year in carrying out her duties. Official visitors accounted for a healthy chunk.

Other envoys with less personal wealth spend less, but diplomats say it is a burden on all of them.

For most congressmen a trip abroad is a free ride. Almost all draw expense money from counterpart funds which embassies have as a result of the U.S. foreign aid program. A portion of local currencies paid in for foreign aid dollars is retained for official U.S. government use.

"The amount sometimes drawn is nothing less than amazing," one veteran State Department employe said. "And expenses can include anything from a night club tab to some new Italian silk ties."

Grasshopper Is Pet

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 (AP) — A three-legged grasshopper is now the unusual pet of Mrs. Nona Houston, who operates the switchboard at Radio Station WWDC.

He almost lost his life one day when he crawled into one of the switchboard holes into which the operator plugged a cord.

Nicknamed Henry, the grasshopper doesn't go all the way in the holes now.

Soviet Bid Considered

TEHRAN, Sept. 6 (AP) — Iran's Parliament will consider an invitation to send a visiting mission to the Soviet Union when it reconvenes in mid-September, Shah Mohamed Reza Pahlevi recently accepted a Soviet invitation but has set no date for his visit.

LADY FARMER "WARS" ON U. S. — Miss Elsie Mumma, 55, a farmer in Hummelstown, Pa., points to a book as she holds the gun with which she has threatened to shoot the next Federal inspector who sets foot on her land. She is being sued by the U. S. for growing 18 acres more wheat than Federal quotas allow on her 70-acre farm. Miss Mumma, declaring she had asked no aid from the government, said she was free to plant crops as she saw fit, and that she would protect her land from any intruders, even at the cost of her life.

World's Wheat Production May Be Near Record

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 (AP)—The Agriculture Department reported today that world production of wheat this year may be near a record level despite the existence of surpluses from past big crops.

A survey of production prospects in the Northern Hemisphere — which normally accounts for more than 90 percent of world production—indicates a total crop larger than last year and or near-record proportions.

The United States is producing about 7 percent less because of its record reserve and surplus supply. Rigid marketing controls were imposed on growers.

Canada, on the other hand, appears to be headed for a harvest 67 percent above last year's small crop.

The European crop is expected to be about the same as last year's.

Preliminary data from Soviet Russia points to a larger wheat harvest this year than last. Better yields were reported from the winter wheat belts of the Ukraine and northern Caucasus, where a serious drought cut production last year.

The department said a drought this year reduced yields in the spring wheat belt beyond the Soviet Urals, but that a considerable expansion of acreage in virgin land in this area was an offsetting factor.

The wheat crop in Asia is expected to exceed last year's large production, the department said, since most of the important producing countries have better crops than in 1954.

Intervention Power Given TUC Council

SOUTHPORT, England, Sept. 6 (AP)—British labor unions today empowered their parent congress to intervene quickly in industrial disputes with the mission of heading off strikes plaguing the nation's shaky economy.

Delegates to the Trade Union Congress, representing over eight million workers, voted to give the TUC General Council the right to step into negotiations between member unions and employers when it deems necessary.

U. S. To Display Atom Progress

BARI, Italy, Sept. 6 (AP)—With the wraps partially lifted from atomic secrecy, the United States will display its atoms-for-peace progress at the Levant Fair here, Sept. 9-27.

Officially represented at the 19-year-old exposition for the first time, the United States will have a special pavilion of its own. One section will be devoted to nuclear energy. It will show how atomic energy can be applied for peaceful purposes, particularly in the field of agriculture.

Twenty-six nations will be showing at the fair, including tiny San Marino, the world's smallest republic, which chose communism for another four years in a recent election.

Neither Russia nor the satellite countries will exhibit.

Nathaniel Knowles, U.S. undersecretary of commerce, is heading a delegation of American businessmen and government officials promoting the American exhibition of agicultural, industrial, commercial and atomic development. This is part of President Eisenhower's program to develop better relations in the world through trade and commerce.

Blushers "Fickle" In Their Affection

BRISTOL, England, Sept. 6 (AP)—People who blush too easily are "rather fickle in their affection and don't find it easy to feel affectionate toward others," a British psychologist said today.

Dr. Joseph Sandler of London's Tavistock Clinic also told the British Assn. for the Advancement of Science that generally blushers don't like jazz music because they think "it is an invitation to be uninhibited."

Blushers, he said, "not only fear being seen but feel guilty if they see things they are not supposed to see."

But the normal blush fulfills an important function in the propagation of the human species —"a sign of interest and reception and a readiness to be courted."

Sandler said "the personalities of male and female blushers were found to be very similar, though the male blushers are far more severely disturbed than the women.

Meade City Firm To Go Ahead With Sewage Plant

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Sept. 6 (AP)—A commercial developing firm at Meade City says it is going ahead on its own with plans to build a sewage disposal plant on the Patuxent River.

The developer, Laurel Joint Venture, said it has tried for three years to develop the sewage disposal project jointly with the city of Laurel, but the two parties have been unable to get together.

W. S. Banks of Laurel Joint Venture notified the Anne Arundel County Commission in a letter that it has gone ahead and submitted plans for the plant to the State Health Department.

Since it is to be located on Anne Arundel's side of the Patuxent, its approval also is required. So Banks asked the County Commission for a meeting to show the plans.

Ralph L. Lowman, head of the commission, said it will be arranged next week.

Banks disclosed that Laurel Joint Venture had sent its plan to the state on April "in event the proposed joint venture did not materialize. The question of a joint plant has not been resolved, and inasmuch as this question has been in abeyance for over three years, we request that we be allowed to build our own treatment plant, subject to your design and approval."

Striking Bendix Radio Workers Call For 'Gains'

BALTIMORE, Sept. 6 (AP) — The AFL machinists union, on strike at six Baltimore area Bendix radio plants, hears the company's answer tomorrow to a demand for the "essential gains" it gave its CIO aviation workers, including supplemental jobless pay.

Some 3,000 workers at the Baltimore plants are represented by the AFL International Association of Machinists. Workers at the aviation plants are represented by the CIO's United Auto Workers. The AFL struck early last Thursday.

At a session with a federal mediator today the machinists asked for "the essential gains just concluded in the agreement reached with the UAW-CIO and eight other divisions of Bendix Aviation Corp. on the basic 21-cent General Motors package including a supplemental unemployment plan."

The company contended the union's counter-proposal "vastly exceeds" other electronics industry settlements, but it would study it "more thoroughly to see if it contains any possible hope for a settlement."

Tomorrow's meeting with a federal mediator is set for 2 p. m E. D. T.

A statement by A. H. Bode, of Bendix, said "the UAW settlement with Bendix in Detroit does not alter the fact that Bendix Radio is in the electronics industry" and must "achieve a settlement with the IAM based upon the settlements made by a majority of our competitors."

It said "our competitors have not adopted the so-called auto industry pattern . . . and we cannot do so without becoming non-competitive."

The union replied saying "previous contracts with the IAM at the Baltimore plant always equaled or were superior to the settlement terms with respect to economic gains at other divisions of the corporation."

On wages, the company has offered six-cent hourly boosts now, a year from now and in 1957. It said the average hourly wage now is $1.80.

Bond Is Posted For Merryman

SALISBURY, Md., Sept. 6 (AP)—Lewis C. Merryman Jr., the 28-year-old son of a U.S. commissioner, was free today on $2,500 bond on a narcotics charge.

Merryman was arrested over the holiday weekend in nearby Ocean City where Police Chief James Tyler said he had been under surveillance for some time.

The son of the Salisbury attorney and commissioner was charged with possession of narcotics. Officers who trailed him to his automobile said they seized a quantity of marijuana cigarettes, a scale, papers, and boxes in which to carry the cigarettes.

U. S. Treasury Agent Walter S. Fialkewicz and two aides made the arrest.

Merryman's father, U. S. commissioner for Maryland's Eastern Shore, posted the bond. Judge James B. Robins, Ocean City magistrate, ordered Merryman held for action of the Worcester County grand jury, which convenes in Snow Hill this month.

Young Merryman had been living in Ocean City.

Cadillac

No Doubt In His Mind This Time!

This happy gentleman has just taken title to his seventh motor car.

And while he would probably have difficulty recalling all the different makes and models he has purchased through the years, there is one thing he knows with absolute certainty: He never felt like this before when he took the keys and made for the open road.

For this is his first Cadillac! And what a glorious feeling it is to know he has chosen the "car of cars"!

Gone are the doubt . . . and the worry . . . and the wonder. This time he knows he's right!

And how quickly the evidence will assemble in support of his sentiment!

First of all, there will be the eloquent testimony of the car itself—its magnificent performance . . . its marvelous comfort and ride . . . and its incredible ease of steering and handling.

And then, as he travels the boulevard, there will be those quick glances of approval from his fellow motorists to tell him that he is not alone in his judgment.

And, finally, there will be that assembly of family and friends that awaits him at journey's end . . . offering final confirmation of the wisdom of his choice.

Of course, the man who takes title to a new Cadillac today enjoys the double satisfaction of having made the wisest possible choice at the wisest possible time.

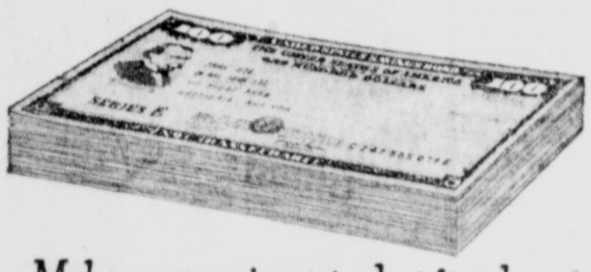

Because of Cadillac's increased year-end production, for instance, he will find that he can have surprisingly prompt delivery on his new Cadillac.

And, as if this were not sufficient in itself, we are also in a position—because of our low inventory of used cars—to offer him a most generous allowance on his present automobile.

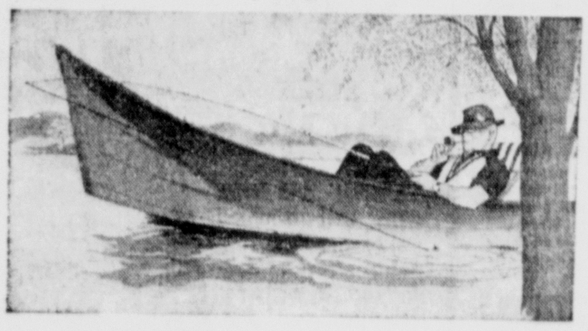

Why not come in soon—and spend an hour at the wheel—and let us acquaint you more fully with this unique opportunity?

New Sign Sought Due To Traffic Plan

The one-way traffic plan on Bedford Street has resulted in a Bedford Street service station operator asking the Mayor and Council for permission to erect a sign on Frederick Street.

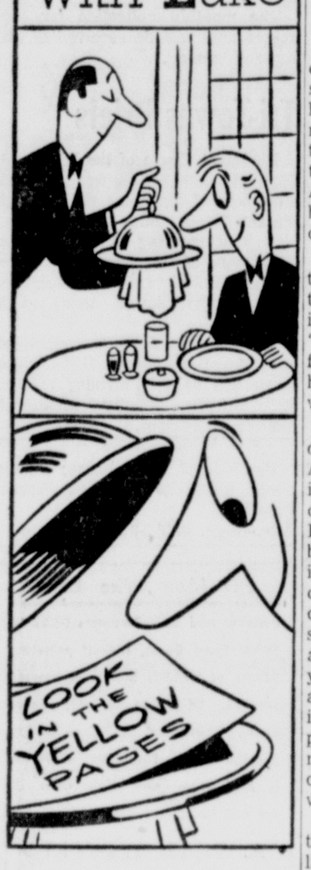

The request from James E. Rickard, who said his business has been affected by making Frederick Street outbound and Bedford Street inbound on Route 220.

He asked the council for authority to erect a sign on Frederick Street directing motorists to his service station at 1039 Bedford Street.

His request was referred to the city departments affected by it, the street and police departments.

The mole lemming has such long, powerful front teeth that he uses these to dig with instead of his claws.

Talent for putting others at ease is one of charm's greatest attributes. Here's special advice from J. R. P.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

A young bride I know had a caller one day, an older woman she assumed was a friend of her husband's mother. The guest admired her new home, chatted interestingly and accepted a cup of tea, but didn't give her name. Adroit questioning didn't reveal her identity, and the bride never did find out who her caller was.

"She may have given us one of the nicest wedding presents, and thought I was rude not to mention it," the bride mourned to me later. "I'm sure she was a friend of the family, but I still think I never saw her before unless it was at our wedding."

Never be guilty of putting anyone in such an awkward position. Always mention your own name immediately if there's any possible doubt that you're not recognized. Even if you're sure you're remembered, say at once who you are in case your name may not be. It certainly gives a boost to your charm rating at a party if you speak your name every time an acquaintance is about to introduce you — your name may escape him at the moment although he knows it, or he may not be sure of how to pronounce it. It's a duty of good manners as well as an attribute of charm to put others at ease in this way.

Identify yourself immediately on the telephone. I've been hearing lately that many teenagers, both boys and girls, have learned this lesson well. Instead of, "Hello, is Bob there?", they say, "Hello, Mrs. Thomas. This is Dick Davis. May I speak to Bob?" There's something very winning in the performance of this small courtesy easily and naturally by young people. At any age, it makes a big difference in the impression you make.

TEN SECRETS OF CHARM

You are welcome, free of charge, to the reminder card, TEN SECRETS OF CHARM. It lists ten points to remember as milestones along the road to greater charm. Write to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed return envelope.

Council Is Recipient Of 'Thank You' Notes

The Mayor and Council today received two "thank you" notes, one from two organizations and another from a citizen.

E. M. Schiller, 1034 Shades Lane expressed appreciation for work done on that street, stating it was the "best ever done."

The Cumberland Civitan Club and the Upper Potomac Valley Kennell Club thanked the council for allowing the organizations to operate a refreshment stand on Baltimore Street during the Bicentennial.

The clubs reported money raised through this endeavor and the dog show Saturday at Fairgo will go toward combatting deafness among the needy children of the city.

Robert F. Moore, president of the Civitan Club, stated that Dr. Winter R. Frantz, city health officer, is supervising the program from the standpoint of cases where infected tonsils are causing deafness. The club finances these operations.

City Purchases Street Salt

The Mayor and Council yesterday, on the recommendation of the street commissioner, voted to accept the offer of one of several identical bids for calcium chloride.

William V. Buchholtz, street commissioner, said there were identical bids received for supplying 35 tons of the chemical, but said Super Concrete Products allowed the city a two per cent discount.

The firm will supply the city with the flake technical grade 77 to 80 per cent calcium chloride at a price of $27 per ton.

The chemical is used, among many things, to keep dust down on streets.

The council affirmed John E. Trost as a regular member of the Fire Department effective September 1. He was certified by the Civil Service Board on August 26, after completing his year's probationary period.

The council authorized payments to William D. Bidinger, John W. and Mary E. Shepherd, Susan Jeannette McAbee, and Catherine and Harold W. Bender for properties acquired in Ridgeley for the flood protection project.

Also approved was the hiring of Mrs. Ruth Conway Moore as clerk in the Water Department during the absence of James Twigg, who is on sick leave. Her salary effective August 18 is $192 a month.

Delaney Winner Of Art Contest

Joseph T. Delaney of Frostburg, staff artist for The Times and Alleganian Company, has been awarded first place in the ninth annual editorial newspaper cartoon competition conducted by the Disabled American Veterans.

The announcement was made at DAV national headquarters in Cincinnati by Maj. Gen. Melvin J. Mass (retired), commander.

Delaney, 34-year-old paratroop veteran of World War II, received $250 for his award winning cartoon "Prisoners of War," which portrayed a disabled American veteran behind jail cell bars with these inscriptions on the bars: "Inadequate Hospitalization"; "Unequal Job Opportunities"; "Insufficient Compensation" and "Public Ingratitude."

Delaney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Delaney, 216 East Main Street, Frostburg, joined the Times-News staff in September 1952. He attended Beall High School, entered the Army in 1944 and was discharged two years later with the rank of staff sergeant. He served in Europe.

Married and the father of four children, Delaney completed art training at The Art Institute of Pittsburgh in 1949 and was recalled to the armed forces as a member of the U. S. Army Reserve. Later he did art work in Canton, Ohio.

Delaney resides at 10 Beall Street, Frostburg. His wife is the former Miss Elsie Hunter of there.

"...let's cut out the fine print!"

THAT'S WHAT THE MAN SAID SO THAT'S WHAT WE DID...

"Folks," he said, "let's cut out the fine print in this auto insurance policy and make it easy to read and understand..."

Who is this man? Chairman of the Board... President of the Company? Not by a long shot.

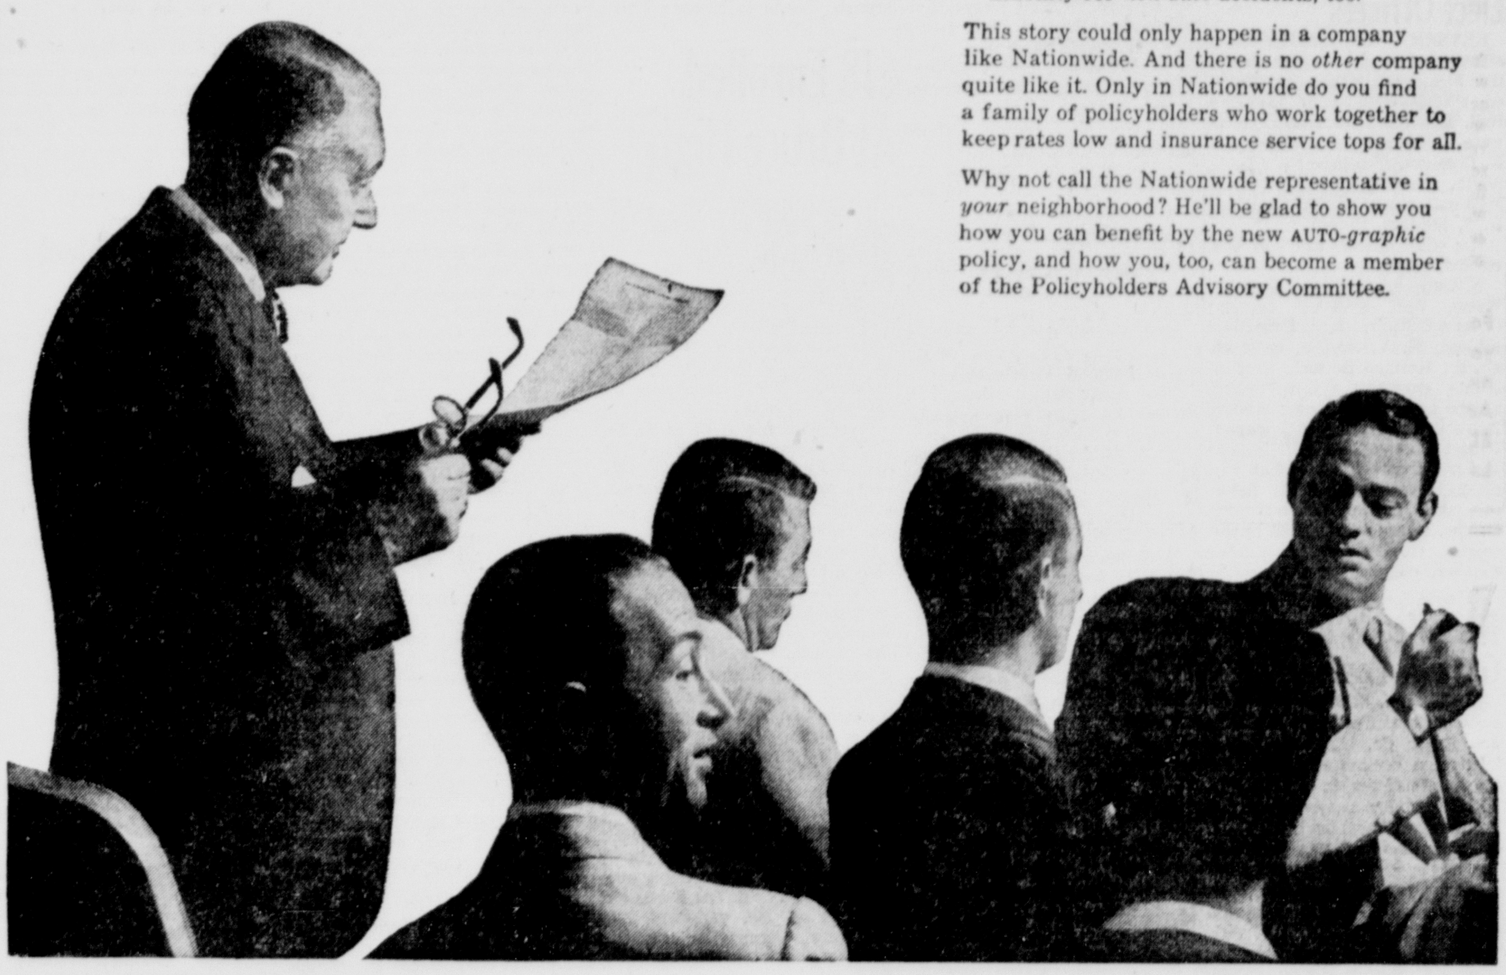

He's one of 2,000,000 Nationwide policyholders—but he's a member of the Policyholders Advisory Committee. This Committee is made up of policyholders who are elected by fellow policyholders. They meet annually with Nationwide officers to speak their minds about what they like and don't like about their companies' activities, policies and services.

This policyholder spoke his mind... and Nationwide answered with the AUTO-graphic—a completely new auto insurance policy.

- The AUTO-graphic is SHORT, over 3,000 words cut out—without any loss in protection.
- The AUTO-graphic is READABLE—big type all the way through, with no annoying fine print.
- The AUTO-graphic is ILLUSTRATED—with pictures showing coverages and benefits.
- The AUTO-graphic is TOP PROTECTION—broader auto coverages plus Comprehensive Family Liability for non-auto accidents, too.

This story could only happen in a company like Nationwide. And there is no other company quite like it. Only in Nationwide do you find a family of policyholders who work together to keep rates low and insurance service tops for all.

Why not call the Nationwide representative in your neighborhood? He'll be glad to show you how you can benefit by the new AUTO-graphic policy, and how you, too, can become a member of the Policyholders Advisory Committee.

Flood Control For New Creek Area Discussed

Garbage Disposal Aired By Council

KEYSER — During the reguler meeting of the city council yesterday afternoon, two matters of importance to the citizens of Keyser and nearby area were discussed.

Two representatives of the work unit of the Soil Conservation Service met with council, asking the city to sponsor and support a survey of the New Creek valley, for the purpose of carrying on a project to prevent floods and save the soil in the watershed in the New Creek area. The local watershed needs protection, and under the Flood Control Act, the New Creek watershed will be given attention.

The Mayor and Council suggested that the Mineral County Court and the Mineral County Board of Education be brought into a three-party sponsorship of the work as an interlocking body, due to the fact the county court has a vital part in such an undertaking, and the Board of Education owns property in the area and has vast operations.

The New Creek watershed comprises an area of 32,704 acres that are in danger, according to those in the soil conservation body, and the local council suggested that it might be worth a trial to appeal to the county farm bureau group, which is vitally interested in preventing soil erosion and financial loss to farms. N. R. Caryl, is area conservationist adviser.

The Mayor and Council also heard Stanley Spencer and Ellwood Hollingsworth, local men who have been gathering garbage and other waste materials and transporting it to the municipal dump, who came to get information as to what is to be done, now that the city has withdrawn help in operating the former dump and land-fill operation, east of the city.

They were informed by the Mayor and Council that the municipal body has no further part in the matter and will await the action of the State Board of Health. Since the petitioners of the city objected to the city plan to operate a land-fill, the city has returned the bulldozer that was used in the operation, and which was only partly paid for, to the Rish Corporation of Clarksburg. Also the city withdrew workers from the land-fill operation leaving it open and unused, excepting by haulers of trash to the old land-fill.

Mayor John C. Freeland told the two operators that when the citizens turned down the proposition, which was a plan provided by the city to pay costs and leave a profit for operating expenses of the city, the council did not feel that the continuing financial expense of making payments on the bulldozer was right when it could not be used.

A number of other matters were handled including the payment of expenses of the municipal swimming pool.

Air Conditioning Hurts

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP)—Talk all you want about the reasons for the decline in minor league baseball attendance, but there are only two as far as the president of the Shreveport team is concerned.

Bonneau Peters, for 18 years head of the local Texas league club, says the reason baseball has lost much of its appeal are (1) radio and television of major league games into the territory of the minors and (2) home air conditioning.

"We'll have to live with air conditioning in homes," Peters says "but we can hope the majors some day will see the point that free baseball performances and the desperate plight of the minors don't mix."

Council Drops Plan To Widen Street

The Mayor and Council yesterday gave up plans to widen congested Pershing Street in front of the Cumberland Post Office.

It was agreed that the cost of widening the street was prohibitive in relation to the results that would be gained.

City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum explained in the pre-council session that the General Services Administration insists that the pavement be kept at a ten-foot width.

This would mean that widening the street by four feet, making it 24 feet, would cost $3,900. The sidewalk would have to be built four feet closer to the building.

The commissioners and Mayor Roy W. Eves agreed it would not be plausible to undertake this project at the cost involved.

The city engineer was instructed to inform the GSA of the city's decision. There had been communications with the department on this project.

The General Services Administration is the government department that is in charge of post office buildings.

City Employes Get Retroactive Pay Increase

Municipal employes in all job classifications under Civil Service received a 10 per cent pay raise retroactive to July 1 and payable during the next payroll period when the Mayor and City Council authorized the order yesterday.

Mayor Roy W. Eves earlier said the city's budget had been approved to provide the funds necessary for the pay raise when the city's present $1.50 per $100 tax rate was established last month.

The wage boost covers employes under Civil Service, but does not cover those whose rates of pay are established in conformity with the schedules fixed by the state for similar types of employment.

Among those in the Police Department, the chief's pay goes from $368 to $405.50 a month; lieutenants from $302.50 to $333; sergeants from $286 to $314.50, and patrolmen from $269 to $296.50.

The fire chief's salary was increased from $353.10 to $388.50. Among others in the fire department were assistant chiefs, from $320 to $352; captains, $292 to $322; lieutenants, $287.10 to $316; chauffeurs, $275 to $302.50, and pipemen and utility men, $269.50 to $296.50.

In the Street Department, the unskilled labo er's hourly wage goes from $1.40 to $1.54. Semi-skilled laborers, making from $1.40 an hour to $1.73 an hour in five different grades, will get $1.64 to $1.90 an hour.

Skilled laborers in the Water Department will get $1.80 under the new scale, while semi-skilled laborers will get from $1.64 to $1.70 an hour.

The city engineer's pay increases from $833.33 to $916.50 a month, draftsmen in the engineering department, from $350 to $385.

The auditor's salary is boosted from $467.50 a month to $514 a month; the tax collector, from $467.50 to $514 a month, and the city clerk from $370.70 to $408.

Besides those mentioned, are a host of other scales representing all job classifications covered by the council's action today.

North Central City, Iowa, woos a young lady in New York who harbors ambition to be a model and who thinks love is for amateurs. It is his ambition to bear this lass off to North Central City, Iowa, to help out in the hardware store. She resists this proposition strenuously, interminably, and in the end, successfully. He wins the girl all right but he has to sell his hardware on Eighth Avenue instead of Iowa, a terrible price.

Well, it's nice to see love triumph in this straight-forward, uncomplicated way, though I don't think either of these dramas is headed for the Nobel Prize. Love is not a complete substitute for conflict. Incidentally, Richard Kiley, who played the Iowa lad with great charm and authority, equipped himself with an accent which, I imagine, would make native Iowans wince. They're not quite that corn-fed, even in Iowa.

DOKK Liquor Club Permit Surrendered

The trustees of Wahaba Temple, Dramatic Order, Knights of Khorhassan, have surrendered their club liquor license to the Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverage License Commissioners.

A scheduled hearing of the club licensees yesterday before the board did not have to be held. The licensees had been cited by the board as a result of their being fined a total of $600 in Trial Magistrates Court several weeks ago for violations of the liquor and gaming laws.

Protest Application

The board received a petition today from 77 residents of Cresaptown in which they filed a remonstrance against issuance of a beer license to Charles M. Evans.

Evans had filed an application for the beer license to be used at the Silver Lanes Bowling Alley in the community. The petition stated that there are five establishments in the town which now sell beer and there is a store which has an off-sale beer license.

The board set Tuesday, September 20, at 10 a. m. for a hearing on the remonstrance.

The board issued a one-day beer license to the Cumberland Civitan Club for the Cumberland Fair Grounds on September 10. The club is interested in the dog show being held at the fairgrounds that day.

Old Stone Arch Span On US 40 To Be Fixed

BALTIMORE, Sept. 6 (AP) — The Cumberland Construction Co. was the low bidder by far today on repairs to the stone arch bridge over Casselman River near Grantsville.

The Cumberland company bid $18,701. The only other bid received by the State Roads Commission was for $62,000 from John D. Sheetz Construction Co. of Halethorpe.

Funds for the repair of the bridge which has been closed to traffic for a number of years, will not come from the State Roads Commission's budget.

The funds were appropriated in the last session of the General Assembly in the General Construction and Loan Act of 1955. The Board of Public Works must approve the project.

The SRC does not consider the bridge as part of its road system since there is little demand for travel over it.

The old span, now already a historic site, was built in 1816 from Federal funds. It was part of a military road from Wheeling, W. Va., to Cumberland and was one of two high crown stone arch bridges built in Maryland. It had a clearance of 40 feet for sailing vessels.

The bridge was bypassed about 20 years ago when Route 40 was straightened out and a new bridge built at that point.

Six Negroes enrolled at the Elmer Wolfe school and nine at New Windsor.

Baltimore had a flare-up last year three weeks after school opened at Southern High. There was none there yesterday although two Negroes have joined the teaching staff.

Among the schools opening in three counties today, officials will keep a careful eye on those in Baltimore. The Maryland Petition Committee, which is opposed to integration, held a meeting recently in Hereford.

Baltimore County is opening 28 of 90 schools to Negroes for the first time.

The other counties beginning limited integration are Anne Arundle and Cecil start school Thursday and Montgomery next Monday.

Crime Shows On TV "Calculated Risk"

Senate subcommittee investigating juvenile delinquency has concluded that broadcasting TV crime and violence shows during children's viewing hours is a "calculated risk."

The committee urged that the risk be cut and called upon the television industry to inaugurate a vigorous program of self-censorship. It also demanded stricter control of television programming by the Federal Communications Commission, with authority to revoke the licenses of stations violating an established code.

The committee reported it "has been unable to gather proof of a direct casual relationship between the viewing of acts of crime and violence and the actual performance of criminal deeds." But it expressed the fear that "reading and looking at a great amount of these acts could create in an impressionable mind a permissive atmosphere for this type of behavior . . . . which can result in increasing behavior of this nature."

The committee expressed concern with the "cumulative effect" of prolonged exposure to TV crime and violence programs. Recent surveys of TV habits show that the average child between the age of 7 and 13 years of age spends from 20 to 30 hours a week with his eyes glued to a television screen. Almost as much time is spent watching TV as is spent in school.

The senators said there is reason to believe TV crime shows are potentially much more injurious to children and young people than motion pictures, radio or comic books because television is available for many hours of the day and the visual and audible aspects create more of an impression on young minds.

In an appendix to its report, the committee published scores of communications from educators, psychologists and law enforcement agencies generally endorsing the committee's conclusions.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Going Backwards

The course of civilization has been in the direction of softening the angers of man for man. Prisoners of war used to be killed to save the expense of feeding and housing them. Sometimes they were enslaved.

When all European armies were professional, the soldier was an artisan at war who might, on order of his commander, be on the other side. Loyalty was to the commander rather than to any concept of nationality. It was in the 17th Century that the concept evolved of the conqueror as the custodian for prisoners of war. In time, the philosophy developed that military prisoners were not guilty of crimes against the opposing states.

Sir Charles Oman, in his "A History of the Art of War in the Middle Ages," makes the point:

"For the combatants had no national or religious hatred for each other, and generally not even personal hatred. . . . But the men-at-arms of each host had probably served half a dozen times side by side with their enemies of the moment, since the bands were always passing into the pay of new employers. . . . And even if this were not the case, all mercenaries were more or less brothers in arms, and despised the tyrant or the bourgeoisie which paid them. Moreover, a prisoner was worth to his captor not only the value of his horse and armour, but also a ransom, while a dead man could pay nothing . . ."

Thus war became increasingly humanized because a live soldier was worth more than a dead soldier. Total war, as it developed in World War II, however, calls for the complete destruction of the enemy—not only of his soldiers but of the whole population including women, children and old people. Therefore it does not pay to keep prisoners alive or even well. Furthermore, the complication of war for ideas engendered a fierce fanaticism. When countries fought over a boundary line, the rulers could have their tongues in their cheeks; maybe a marriage would eliminate the boundary more effectively than a war. But when men fight over ideas, they only too often reach the conclusion that all dissenters must die.

In the Report on Prisoners of War, the Secretary of Defense's Advisory Committee rightly points to Communist Chinese barbarism. The death marches astound them. The report says:

"So the journeys to the prison camps were 'death marches.' Especially in the winter of 1950-1951 when the trails were knee-deep in snow and polar winds flogged the toiling column. On one of these marches, 700 men were headed north. Before the camp was reached, 500 men had perished."

But that was the clear intent. It was that the men should die, without being killed conventionally, so that the cost of upkeep should be reduced. I knew intimately Chinese wars from 1918 to 1931 but never saw a prison camp. It was tough enough paying and feeding the soldiers; who had the money to feed prisoners? And so the report says that the prison "camps varied from bad to worse."

The greatest crime of all was the use of the prison camps to corrupt the minds and spirits of the prisoners. In this work, the Chinese Communists were assisted by Americans, called "progressives." Among these were, of course, ordinary apple-polishers, toe-lickers, snide creatures who were willing to get an extra loaf of bread or a piece of meat for betraying their comrades. Such are found everywhere.

But among them were also found convinced Marxists who while in our army were ideologically and emotionally associated with the enemy. How many of these there were we shall not know beyond the "Twenty-One" who stayed behind. The "progressive" was an agent of the enemy inside our forces. The Report on POW indicates that we still have a meagre concept of who they were and what they did.

True that these were a minority—but how many are needed? Of a total of 4,428 Americans recovered from the POW camps, 192 were definitely regarded as suspects, although the conduct of 565 was questioned. As compared with civilian life, this was a very large proportion. In a university consisting of thousands of students it has been found by experience that a hard core cell of a dozen Communists could do an unbelievably competent job of penetration. How much more could 192 do among only 4,428?

Dictator's Delight

Some Ex-Prisoners Of Korean War May Have Espionage Assignments

Jack Anderson

(Editor's Note — While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation his column is being written by members of his staff.)

WASHINGTON — This may be denied, but the Army has uncovered evidence that some American POW's came home from North Korea with Communist espionage assignments.

A handful of prisoners were so well indoctrinated by the Reds that they accepted secret missions, which they are now carrying out through the Communist party in the United States.

This startling information was revealed behind closed Pentagon doors by Capt. Bert Cumby, Negro Army officer, who interrogated the tough cases during the Korean prisoner exchange.

Cumby told a top-level Defense Department committee that some ex-POW's have actually confessed to Communist missions. Others are suspected of working for the Reds, based on "verified and supporting information whose sources are of known and consistent reliability," he said.

"If other services don't have such information," Captain Cumby added, "they should get it for the security of their installations as well as their personnel."

Flood-Go-Round

Flood relief to devastated New England is lagging. Promised aid has shown up, so far, mostly in the headlines. . . . Federal agency head., summoned to discuss the flood crisis with President Eisenhower, came up with a dozen legal arguments why they couldn't help. . . . Ike angrily barked, "Cut the red tape!" and stormed out of the room. . . . To prevent future floods, the President will ask Congress for new flood-control projects in his State of the Union message. . . . A heavy stench still hangs over flood-battered towns. Most of the drinking water is still contaminated. . . . Rats as big as cats have materialized out of nowhere in basements and debris. . . . Flood-damaged autos have been cleaned up and shipped to the South and Midwest. Shady auto dealers are passing them off as new cars.

Headlines And Footnotes

Harold Talbott, the ousted Air Force secretary, is trying to get back in the Air Force—as a consultant. . . . Unscrupulous tire merchants are cutting grooves into old, worn-out tires so they look new. Result: blowouts and deaths on the highways. . . . Cutter, the California Salk producer, has offered to give children of stockholders first crack at the precious vaccine when the polio season hits. . . . Ex-President Truman's political attacks on Ike have given birth to a new wisecrack: Don't hit a man while he's up. . . . The Budget Bureau, eager to get the government out of the red before election, has ordered all federal agencies to cut costs drastically. Worst hit: the Air Force, which has been ordered to slash its commitments by $1,400,000,000. . . . An Air Force delegation, led by Chief of Staff Gen. Nathan Twining, journeyed to Walloon Lake, Mich., to plead with vacationing Secretary of Defense Charlie Wilson to fight the squeeze order. . . . Gen. Lemuel Shepherd, Marine Corps commandant, is forcing a rival into retirement. The unwilling rival, Maj. Gen. "Chesty" Puller, has been boomed as Shepherd's successor. When the retirement board voted to continue Puller on active duty, Shepherd pulled his rank and overruled the board.

The Weather Bureau will attempt to break up future hurricanes by seeding them with dry ice—if Congress puts up the money. This is an about-face for the Weather Bureau, which previously considered hurricane knowledge too uncertain and cloud seeding too risky. Hurricane Connie's terrible toll, however, convinced the Weather Bureau that something must be tried. . . . Atomic scientists have simplified the complex H-bomb so it can be carried by a fighter-bomber. This baby H-bomb will pack a punch equal to 1,000,000 tons of TNT. . . . Research on the atomic plane is far enough along that the Air Force, in another three months, will load its experimental atomic engine into the back of a B-36 for tests at high altitudes.

Committee Alters Document

The Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report altered a government document to influence public opinion in favor of the big power companies. This private citizens' group reprinted a Hoover report on water resources and power, disguising it to look like an official document, then carefully left out an acid dissent by Congressman Chet Holifield, California Democrat. . . . Idaho's bouncing Sen. Herman Welker has been so busy golfing and fishing in the Payette Lake region that he has turned down speaking requests and refused to do his chores for constituents. . . . Ailing Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson, under doctor's orders to give up cigarets, always keeps a pack within arm's reach—to test his will power.

Red Espionage Abets Cold War In North Africa

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—The "cold war" has shifted its main front to North Africa. There, with the aid of espionage rings directly established by the Communist regime in Moscow, various nationalist movements are reaping the benefit of Soviet strategy.

While there's a legitimate sentiment for independence and autonomy in Algeria, Morocco and Tunisia, the terrorism and agitation have been given a direct stimulus by the Communists through their underground apparatus.

Unfortunately, some of these Communist units and their trained espionage agents use the soil of Egypt and other Arab countries as bases of operations. This should not be allowed, but the usual answer to such criticism is that nationalism is a natural development and that it's just too bad if the Communists exploit it.

Another Aspect

But there's another aspect. France and the United States, for example, are allies. Whatever happens in Algeria or Morocco is, so far as this country is concerned, a French internal matter. The United Nations has not called for action as it did in Korea and hence, on the basis of all the precedents of international law, the government in Washington is obligated to keep hands off any assistance to rebels. It is legal, however, and in accordance with custom to furnish assistance to a constituted government.

Thus, the recent "public protest" of Walter Reuther, president of the CIO, that the United States has been furnishing helicopters for the French to use in North Africa is not only a distinct disservice to the cause of Allied unity but it is in flagrant disregard of historic practice which has for the most part caused American citizens, and especially the heads of large and influential organizations, to refrain from injuring the prestige of their own country abroad by taking sides against an allied government in a foreign war.

The Algerian Nationalist movement was quick to utilize Reuther's pronouncement by writing to Secretary of State Dulles demanding the return of the eight helicopters loaned to France for use in Algeria. France has told Washington officially that the helicopters were being used to take care of sick and wounded. This, of course, is the primary purpose of such planes, rather than combat operations.

Reuther's Statement Used

Mr. Reuther has charged nevertheless that the helicopters were being operated by the French "to hunt, to capture or to kill Algerian rebels," and now the Algerian National Committee, in a public statement, makes wide use of Mr. Reuther's comment and declares that the "facts reveal that the helicopters are being used as charged by Mr. Reuther."

If the United States wishes to place helicopters or any other arms at the disposal of a government with which it is allied, it may do so. To withhold arms requested by a government with which this country is at peace is an unfriendly act and has usually been so regarded in international relations.

It is to the interest of the United States to see rebellion squelched in North Africa. While sympathetic with the aims of all peoples to win autonomy or even independence, the United States cannot afford to see any ally weakened or some of the military forces of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization withdrawn from their stations in Europe due to the need of an ally to fight rebellions in North Africa. Yet to achieve this very result is a Communist objective in the "cold war."

The United States can, of course, express its desire to see all peoples given freedom but it cannot sit idly by and refuse to aid constituted governments. That's the legal basis, for example, today of the support for the recognized government of China on Formosa, and it has always been the American policy in many other cases.

The Communists want to drive a wedge between the United States and France and undoubtedly will use the Reuther statement to advance their propaganda on that point. But Americans nowadays would be serving their country best by avoiding any acts that embarrass the Department of State in steering its delicate course in the troubled areas of the world.

Much Resentment Likely

Plenty of resentment undoubtedly will be stirred up in France because of the Reuther statement. The Communists will see to that, too. It was not so long ago that Senator McCarthy was condemned for trying to persuade Greek shipowners to refrain from aiding the Reds. His intentions, however, were on the right side of the battle because it was an informal step designed to help win the "cold war."

To hamstring France, on the other hand, by building up a public sentiment against letting the Paris government use military equipment heretofore loaned to it is to sow the seeds of anti-Americanism in France and to help the Soviets win the "cold war."

The Communists are making progress in the "cold war" in Africa because too many Americans are duped by the outward appearance of ligitimacy which some of the so-called nationalistic movements have been able to publicize. Because of the lack of advancement in some of these areas and failure to get the necessary training for self-government, the granting of independence at this time in the midst of a "cold war" would not mean freedom but an easy road to Communist control and "Communist colonialism."

What worries Happy if Ike has the GOP nomination cinched like a cowboy's saddle?

What boots Happy if Harriman and Stevenson are alike as two peas? It makes a neat comparison. But it's not enough for soup.

For Happy is a governor again with the Democratic nomination sewed up like the snake that bit the mandarin.

Happy was governor 20 years ago. He never forgets an anniversary.

He sort of lowbridges the political monkey with a wrench. How come? Because dearest Alben Barkley was opposed to him hook, line and what's in the jug.

Just happens that Barkley is the punctuation in the national Democratic book.

It was Alben's personal prestige, charm and pearl-handled smile that elected FDR more times than were constitutional.

So Happy's nomination over Barkley's opposition violates the first law of political chicken farming.

War For North Africa

By Stewart Alsop

CASABLANCA, Morocco.

At the Geneva conference, French Prime Minister Edgar Faure sought out President Eisenhower, to talk to him about the nightmarish problem faced by France here in North Africa. The President listened courteously for awhile, and then, according to a French account, horrified the French premier by asking a question: "But why don't you just free all your colonies?"

Certainly this would be the simplest solution, and also the solution which springs most readily to the American mind. But unfortunately the problem of North Africa is not quite so simple as all that.

It is complicated in two ways: For one thing, some 400,000 Frenchmen live here in Morocco, and there are some 2,000,000 in all French North Africa. France cannot simply abandon these people entirely, leaving them to the mercies of the North Africans—masses which are by no means always tender, as the terrible massacre of Oued zem has demonstrated.

Unmitigated Disaster

For another thing, a total withdrawal of French influence from North Africa would be an unmitigated disaster for France. The loss of the enormous French investments in North Africa would disastrously enfeeble the French economy, while the loss of the North Africa contingent would equally enfeeble French military power.

It is fashionable here in Morocco to say that the loss of North Africa would make France another Spain. This is nonsense, if only because the loss of North Africa would not destroy the fertility of the French soil. But is is certainly true that France would cease to have the shadow of a claim to the status of a great power, if the essential French influence in North Africa were destroyed.

This is an aspect of the North African tragedy which Americans would do well to ponder. It is all very well to bait the French for their colonial policy, which, God knows, is far from brilliant, but it is also well to remember that the United States has a stake in what is happening here.

There are, of course, the American air bases here. As of this writing, the bases are a vital element in American air-atomic striking power. When the bases in Spain become fully operational and even when the intercontinental D-52 bomber replaces the medium range D-47, the bases here will remain most useful. But they will no longer be essential.

Real Stake In Europe

The really essential American stake in the struggle here is not in North Africa at all, but in France and in Europe. One of the highest French officials here remarked the other day: "The war for North Africa has already begun." If he was right—and he may be—North Africa will siphon French power from the Continent until there is nothing left but a great mushy vacuum. The recent transfer of two French NATO divisions from Europe to North Africa was a portent of things to come. The real danger, in short, is a final crumbling away of French power in Europe. Americans like to think that French power is a myth anyway. But the strategy of the NATO alliance is squarely based on the existence of a reasonably strong France. If France is to become a mushy vacuum, Western strategy wil be knocked into a cocked hat.

Theoretically, it should be entirely possible to avoid "The War for North Africa" while safeguarding the really essential French interests here. The most striking thing about the Moroccan Nationalist movement is the moderate and even conservative nature of its leadership.

Men like Bouabid, ben Barka and Belafrej have no lust for French blood. They are themselves products of French culture, and what they really want is recognition and authority for the Moroccan middle class, which is itself largely a creation of the French.

The fact that the Nationalist leaders were prepared enthusiastically to accept the proposals of the deposed French resident general, Gilbert Grandval, is proof enough of their moderation. For, as a practical matter, the Grandval plan fell very far short of real Moroccan independence, and in no way genuinely threatened French interests here.

Presents Opportunity

The moderation of the Nationalist movement here actually presents France with a great but fleeting opportunity. It is not difficult to imagine how the British would exploit such an opportunity. Every moderate Nationalist leader would be loaded with medals and probably a title to boot. The Nationalists would also be given real power, not sham power. If the French exploited their opportunity in such a way, the Nationalists would certainly rely heavily on French capital and French skill, as all the Nationalist leaders say freely and repeatedly they must.

Of course it is silly to imagine that the infinitely complex problems here could be solved simply by bestowing medals on the moderate Moroccan Nationalist leaders. Yet the problem is by no means insoluble—far less than in Indochina, for example. Meanwhile, time is rapidly running out. Premier Faure may, to be sure, find a compromise that will fit, at least for a while. But here in Morocco, the authority of the moderate Nationalists is being more and more seriously threatened by the extremists and the terrorists. If Morocco plunges again into another and greater bloodletting—as it may, as soon as Sept. 12—the extremists on both sides are sure to take over. Then, "The War for North Africa" will be in earnest. "The War for North Africa" could fatally weaken the Western alliance, and in the long run, it could be the prelude to a Communist Africa. Such are the stakes in the struggle here.

Medical Care Of Aged Becoming Serious Problem

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The medical care of our aging population is becoming a serious problem. In no other age group is prolonged illness and disability so rife. Furthermore, anyone who has tried to find a suitable convalescent or nursing home for an aged parent can appreciate the need for improving prevailing methods of dealing with the problem.

Our senior folk are in need of almost every type of facility. During an acute illness or following an accident, they may require the services of a general hospital. These institutions are designed and equipped to give continuous medical and nursing service to the short stay patient.

But this type of care is expensive and when convalescence is prolonged, other facilities are more desirable. Those recovering from stroke, for example, should go to a convalescent or nursing home if they cannot be cared for by the family. They require simple nursing and infrequent medical attention.

The British half-way house and the long-stay annex are excellent for this purpose. The half-way house is part of the general hospital and it is set aside for the frail patient who can walk but is not quite well. Those admitted are considered in the halfway stage between hospital and their own home. The majority stay six weeks and the cost is low because they tend to their own needs.

The general hospital also may have a long-stay annex which is comparable to our nursing homes and chronic disease hospitals. It is here that permanently bedfast patients receive day and night care in a homelike atmosphere. It is this intermediary half sick-half well group that presents a real problem in this country.

More and more men and women are alive today because of medical progress but the bottleneck is the lag in facilities for care. Most of our nursing and convalescent homes are overcrowded and some are poorly run. The majority do not consider the patient's future as they lack facilities for rehabilitation.

It is surprising what can be done with rehabilitation in an institutional setting. In one overcrowded institution, 60 per cent of 101 patients with fracture of the lower extremities were discharged after rehabilitation; 38 per cent of a group of 196 stroke victims were so improved they could be sent home.

In an Englsh hospital there were 714 chronic invalids, of whom two thirds were bedfast. The number was reduced to 200 after a concentrated effort to give them active treatment. Many of these patients had been in the infirmary for years; they were apathetic and deteriorating mentally and physically.

TOMORROW: Various effects from various drugs.

BEGINNING HARDENING

C. S. writes: You say some authorities believe that arteriosclerosis starts at birth. Does this mean it is hereditary?

REPLY

No. This belief stems from the old saying that we begin to grow old the moment we are born. On the other hand, premature arteriosclerosis occurs in some families. I doubt if you have reference to atherosclerosis, which is said to be common in newborn infants for a short time.

A CHEWER

Mrs. T. writes: A 19 month old child chews every paper and magazine he can get his hands on. The tot's father is nervous and pulls his hair and bites his nails while watching TV. Do you think the infant has inherited his father's bad habits?

REPLY

No, as many youngsters this age are addicted to nibbling on paper, burnt matches, cigarette stubs, and other unusual substances. The habit usually is temporary. Father is an example of the exception to the rule as he is a bit immature. He obtains relief of tension by chewing his nails or pulling his hair during an exciting show.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Moose Won Four In Row

Cumberland Loyal Order of Moose won the 1954 event by copping four consecutive games from Cunningham's Grocers, 8-4; Cumberland Old Germans, 9-2; Corriganville, 18-6, and Michelbach Furniture of Alexandria, Va., 5-0. Jim Roby pitched the Moose to victory in every game.

The first Western Maryland Tourney was held in 1951 with Hercules Powder Kegs beating C. & P. Telephone Company in the finals. No tourney was held in 1952 but the following year the Fraternal Order of Eagles topped Hercules in the championship game.

Basilio Faces Gil Turner In Syracuse Ring

Carmen 12-5 Choice In Non-Title Scrap

SYRACUSE, N.Y., Sept. 6 (AP) — Gil Turner hopes to pave the way to a welterweight title shot with the king himself by beating champion Carmen Basilio in their 10-round, non-title fight here tomorrow night.

But Carmen has far different ideas. He says he figures that by knocking out Turner, 10th ranked middleweight, he should become eligible for a crack at Carl (Bobo) Olson's middleweight crown.

So tomorrow's battle at the County War Memorial Auditorium should be quite a scrap. Both have a lot to gain. Basilio was a 12-5 favorite.

Basilio normally is a quiet, conservative young man in his discussions with sports writers. But after his last fight—his first since taking the welter title from Tony De Marco here June 10—some of the boys wrote that Carmen didn't look too sharp in chasing Italo Scortichini around the Madison Square Garden ring. Besides, the crowd booed.

Carmen always has felt himself a crowd-pleaser. The boos bothered him. So he came out with it. He says "I intend to knock Turner out."

Turner, on the other hand, predicts he will beat Basilio. If he does, he says, he will turn around and demand another shot at Carmen—this time with the 147-pound title at stake.

Turner expects to weigh about 151 tomorrow night but says he can easily pare down to 147 for a title go. Basilio probably will come in at about 149.

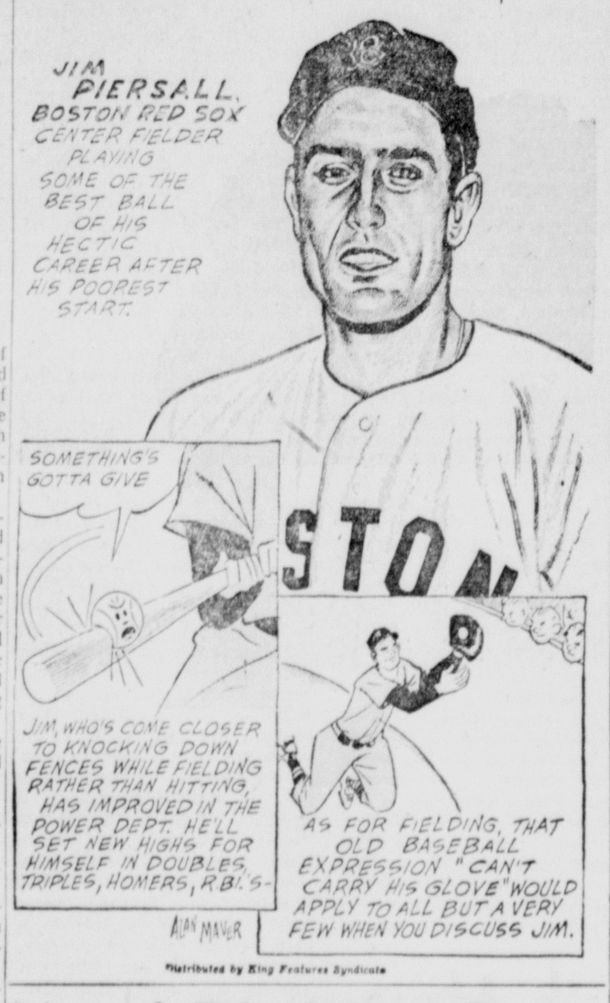

Promoter Norm Rothschild says he expects more than 7,000 fans, many attracted to Syracuse by the state fair, to see the nationally televised and broadcast bout (ABC radio and television 9 p.m. EST).

Larry Middlekamp Cops Dingle Title

Lawrence Middlekamp defeated Jack Dorsey of Keyser on Labor Day to retain the singles championship in the annual Dingle Club tennis tournament. The scores were 3-6, 6-1, 6-4 in a match played on the Dingle courts.

Moore's Pilot Wants Big, Loud Bell For Title Bout

Johnston Says Rocky Has Tendency To Hit After Gong Sounds

NORTH ADAMS, Mass., Sept. 6 (AP)—Manager Charley Johnston said today he was going to demand "a bell that can be heard all over Yankee Stadium," on Sept. 20 when Rocky Marciano defends his heavyweight crown against Light Heavyweight Champion Archie Moore.

Johnston, manager of Moore, said also he was going to ask commission chairman Julius Helfand to have the bell tried out the night before the fight.

"I don't know if Marciano is deaf," said Johnston in a discussion of the heavyweight champion's tactics, "but he has a tendency to hit after the bell and has done it in many of his fights.

"He always claims he does not hear the bell. Well, in this fight, I don't want any doubt. I want a big, loud bell, one he can hear even if they have to get the gong off a fire engine."

Moore also brought up the question of Rocky's fighting style.

"We have rules to go by and I think we should observe them," said Archie. "Rocky has a right to be rough if he wants to. I can be rough, too. If he hits on the break, I'll do the same thing."

Moore only boxed two rounds today, both with Jesse (Gorilla) Jones.

McCoole, Fort Ashby Open Series Today

The McCoole VFW and France's Tavern of Fort Ashby will clash today at 6 p. m. in Keyser in the opener of their best-of-three games final playoff series in the Mineral County Softball League.

McCoole won the league pennant and eliminated Turnaround in the playoff semi-finals. Fort Ashby put Wiley Ford out to reach the finals.

Maryland Loses Tom Selep With Torn Cartilege

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Sept. 6 (AP)—The University of Maryland's football prospects suffered a severe blow today when it was learned that first string fullback Tom Selep will be sidelined all season.

Doctors today diagnosed a knee injury, suffered by the rangy California, Pa., standout on the first day of practice, as a torn cartilege that will require an operation.

Dr. Thurston Adams, who examined Selep today, said it is "very definite" that Selep will be out for the entire season. Selep is due to go to University Hospital in Baltimore in a day or so for the surgery.

Maryland Coach Jim Tatum had counted on Selep as a replacement for last year's No. 1 fullback, Dick Bielski, who graduated. As a member of the No. 2 backfield last year, Selep averaged 5.7 yards in 27 carries and was an excellent kickoff, field goal and extra point kicker. He made good on five out of seven conversions last year.

Selep, a 6-1, 21-year-old 195-pounder, was a hard runner and a good linebacker and was regarded by Tatum as "one of the best."

Looking for a replacement, Tatum in a 1½-hour scrimmage today used at fullback Jim Skarda of Baltimore; Bob Laughery Connellsville, Pa., and Leland Liebold of Smokeless, Pa., both of whom earned letters in 1952 and played for the Army in two ensuing seasons; John Merricks of College park; and former halfbacks Bill Perlo of Washington and Fred Hamilton of Freeport, Pa.

Ken Rosewall, Seixas Reach Quarter-Finals

Nielsen Is Ushered Out By Hal Burrows

FOREST HILLS, N.Y., Sept. 6 (AP)—Australia's "mighty mouse," Ken Rosewall, and two of his American Davis Cup rivals, Vic Seixas and Hamilton Richardson, stroked into the quarter-finals today in the National Tennis Championships.

The rest of the field will catch up tomorrow when the round of eight will be completed in both men's and women's divisions.

Rosewall, tiny backcourt marksman seeded No. 1 in the foreign list and heavy favorite for the title, needed only 57 minutes to cut up Eddie Moylan of Trenton, N.J., a 33-year-old court veteran, 6-2, 6-3, 6-3.

Seixas Tops Fraser

The defending champion, Seixas, needed little more time to polish off Neale Fraser, No. 4 member of the Australian Davis Cup team, 75, 6-4, 6-2.

Then Richardson, the 22-year-old Rhodes Scholar from Baton Rouge, La., exploded the 24-hour bubble of young Whitney Reed Jr., conqueror of Italy's Nicola Pietrangeli. Richardson won 6-3, 6-4, 3-6, 6-4. Young Reed showed the effects of his exhausting five-set triumph over the Italian Davis cupper yesterday.

Rosewall's neat, workmanlike slaughter of Moylan on the West Side Stadium's center court was so thorough the match became extremely boring for a post-holiday crowd of about 3,000.

Nielson Is Upset

The fifth day's program at the lush West Side Tennis Club was marked also by the elimination of temperamental Kurt Nielson of Denmark, a Wimbledon runnerup, and an unexpectedly close match for Doris Hart, the defending woman's champion.

Nielsen, fretting over scheduling practices of the tournament committee, bowed to unseeded Hal Burrows of Charlottesville, Va., in a delayed third round match, 6-3, 3-6, 2-6, 6-4, 8-6.

Miss Hart, top-seeded in the women's division, had to produce her best pressure tennis to defeat petite Yola Ramirez of Mexico, 7-5, 6-4.

Shirley Fry, of St. Petersburg, Fla., seeded sixth, eliminated Shirley Bloomer of England, No. 2 foreign seed, 6-4, 6-3. Mrs. Dorothy Head Knode of Forest Hills, seeded fourth, trounced Mrs. Louise Snow of Oakland, Calif., 6-1, 6-4.

Giammalva Winner

Sam Giammalva of Houston, one of Uncle Sam's Davis Cup hopefuls, scored a big third round win when he whipped Malcolm Anderson, the Australian juntor who had upset Japan's Kosei Kamo. Giammalva won 6-4, 6-2, 1-6, 6-4.

Air Force Academy Begins Grid Drills

DENVER, Sept. 6 (AP)—The U.S. Air Force Academy begins football practice tomorrow with a light workout.

The opening drill will attract 138 candidates—46 per cent of the initial class of cadets. But the academy's head coach, Col. Robert Whitlow, says he'll trim the roster down to about 50 before the opening game with the University of Denver freshmen Oct. 8.

The 300 cadets have completed eight weeks of indoctrination training at the interim site at Lowry Air Force Base. This training has included physical conditioning and Whitlow is assured a turnout of candidates in first class physical shape.

International Opens Playoffs Tonight

MONTREAL, Sept. 6 (AP) — The International League opens the semi-finals of its 23rd annual governor's cup series—the post-season playoffs—in Montreal and Toronto tomorrow.

The opening best-of-seven series send fourth-place Rochester against the pennant-winning Montreal Royals, and the third-place Havana Sugar Kings against the runnerup Toronto Maple Leafs.

The semifinal winners then meet for the Governor's Cup, with the champion representing the league in the Junior World Series against the American Assn. playoff winner.

Mrs. Bowie Takes Boggs Golf Trophy

Mrs. Gordon L. Bowie won the annual Carroll Boggs Trophy tournament yesterday at the Cumberland Country Club by posting a net score of 84-8—76 to lead a field of 19 members of the Women's Golf Association.

The trophy goes to Mrs. Bowie for one year, she having equalled a score set by Boggs.

All second round matches and consolation round matches in the Women's Fall Tournament must be completed by Friday evening.

MVP Could Repeat

Montreal's Rocky Nelson (1953) and Archie Wilson (1951) are the only players with a chance to repeat as the International League's "most valuable player" this year.

CITY SOFTBALL LEAGUE CHAMPIONS — Johnson's Grocery proved the class of the City Softball League this season by winning the pennant with a 25-5 record and sweeping through the playoffs in four straight games with the Cumberland Old Germans and Hygienic Sanitation. Glenn Kauffman, pitching ace, accounted for 21 of the team's 29 victories. The squad, left to right: FRONT ROW—Jimmy Eckard, Mil Dean, John Horwath, Ronnie Cage, Billy Wharton, bat boy; "Bub" Frye, Rickey Kauffman, mascot, and Glenn Kauffman. BACK ROW—Donald Buser, Gerald Null, Rich Cunningham, Wayne Lewis, George Stevenson, Manager Vernon Wharton and John Johnson, sponsor. Joe Wolfe was absent when picture was taken.

Series To Open Sept. 28 Unless Playoff Needed

AL City Is Host, Prices Unchanged

NEW YORK, Sept. 6 (AP) — The 955 World Series will start Wednesday, Sept. 28, in the American League city, unless a playoff is needed to settle the junior circuit's four-team race.

At a meeting of representatives of the contending teams in the offices of Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick, plans for the series were decided as well as dates and ticket prices.

Five American League clubs and Brooklyn and Milwaukee from the National League were represented at the meeting. Since at least four clubs are still in the running for the American League flag, the start of the World Series could not definitely be set.

If a playoff is required the series will start Thursday, Sept. 29. Playoff arrangements will be made by the American League at a meeting to be held in Chicago next Thursday, Sept. 13.

One-Game If Playoff

Present rules provide for a one-game playoff, if two clubs are tied at the season's end, Sunday, Sept. 25. A coin will be tossed to fix the site of the playoff, if two clubs tie. That was the case back in 1948 when Cleveland and Boston finished in a dead heat.

If more than two clubs are tied the coin-tossing would determine opponents as well.

Games 1 and 2 of the world series will be held in the American League champions' park, 3, 4 and 5 in Ebbets Field, assuming Brooklyn wins in the National League, 6 and 7, if necessary, in the American League city.

If Brooklyn plays the Chicago White Sox, Friday, Sept. 30, will be an off day for travel. If the Dodgers go against the New York Yankees, Cleveland Indians or Boston Red Sox, the series will run right through with no off day.

Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 26 and 27, are available for playoffs. If rain puts off a playoff, the star of the series will be delayed a day.

Prices Are Unchanged

World Series tickets will cost the same as last year; box seats $10, reserved seats $7, standing room in the grandstand $4, and bleachers $2. These prices include Federal tax, but are subject to local taxes.

Whether tickets will be sold individually or in blocks, as in the past, will be up to the pennant winning clubs.

Beard To Captain 1955 Tech Eleven

Dickie Beard, of Cumberland, has been elected captain of Virginia Tech's football team for the 1955 season, according to announcement by Coach Frank Moseley.

Jack Prater, center, from North Miami Beach, Fla., has been named alternate captain.

Beard, former Fort Hill High School star, was Tech's outstanding halfback last season. This is his fourth year in the V.P.I. varsity squad. He led the ground gainers in the Southern Conference last season and won several awards for his brilliant performances on the gridiron.

AL To Plan Playoff In Case Of Deadlock

CHICAGO, Sept. 6 (AP)—Playoff plans in case of a tie for the American League pennant will be made Thursday, the League announced today.

A coin tossing ceremony in the offices of President Will Harridge will determine playoff games and sites based on the possibility of a four, three or two-way deadlock when the regular season ends Sept. 25.

Representatives of wire news services will do the coin flipping.

Football Officials Will Meet Tonight

The Potomac Valley Football Officials Association will hold a meeting tonight at 8 o'clock at the Central Y.M.C.A., according to Secretary John Shelton.

Coaches, sportscasters and sports writers are invited to attend.

LaVale Will Send Teams To Baltimore

The LaVale Youth Rec Association will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in the LaVale Fire Hall to fomulate plans for sending their three teams to Baltimore where they will be guests of the Orioles on Saturday.

LaVale had two teams in the Pen-Mar Little League, the Maroons, winners of the pennant and playoffs and the Orioles. The other LaVale team was in the Bi-State Pony League.

The Pen-Mar All-Stars, runners-up in the Maryland Little League tourney, along with Easton's championship team, will participate in pre-game ceremonies at home plate in Baltimore Stadium.

Catherman Is Hole-In-One Test Winner

Mrs. Trevaskis 2nd, Nine Cut Up $63

Charles S. Catherman, Jr., won first prize in the Cumberland Country Club's annual hole-in-one tournament on Labor Day by coming within one foot, 11½ inches of the pin on the 147-yard hole No. 10 at the local course.

Mrs. R. W. Trevaskis was the runner-up while Charles Zembower finished third.

A total of $63 in cash prizes was shared by nine contestants, who finished in the following order:

Charles S. Catherman, Jr., $20, Mrs. R. W. Trexaskis $15, Charles Zembower $10, George Eskin $3, Earl Guard $3, Dr. William Ryan $3, Dr. Frank Leger $3, John Creegan $2, Charles S. Catherman, Jr., $2, Dick Leonard $1, and Dr. Frank Leger $1.

Approximately 100 persons participated in the annual tourney in which no contestant ever has made a hole-in-one. In fact, no aces have been recorded this year at the Country Club.

Orville W. Jackson won the odd hole tourney held over the weekend with a net 35-5—30. Thirty-two players participated.

Players receiving special prizes for par three holes were:

No. 1—Jerome Ellenson. No. 10—Robert Prichard. No. 12—Tucker Mason. No. 13—George Petras. No. 15—Clifton Van Roby. No. 18—W. L. Ridenoure.

American League Pennant Pendulum Swings To Red Sox

Boston Plays 16 Of 19 Tilts In Home Park

Win 10 Of Last 15, Face Tigers Today, Then Tribe, Chisox

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK, Sept. 6 (AP) — The American League pennant pendulum today swung to the Boston Red Sox, the team that was considered out of the race only a week ago.

Although they're in fourth place, three games behind the pace-setting Cleveland Indians, the Red Sox chances were considered brighter than they've been all year. Here is why:

1—During the past 10 days they've been the hottest club in the league. They've won 10 of their last 15, including the last five in a row.

2—The schedule seems to favor them the most. Of their remaining 19 games, 16 will be played in friendly Fenway Park. In contrast, New York has 11 out of 18 at home, Chicago five of 18 and Cleveland only three of 17.

3—The pressure won't be as great on the Red Sox as on the other three contenders. Boston is in the role of the pursuer and the pressure is always greater on those who have to look back over their shoulders.

The Red Sox are loose, relaxed and carefree and as manager Mike Higgins said: "If we don't win the pennant, we're going to scare the heck out of somebody."

Meet Yanks Seven Times

That somebody may be the New York Yankees, who still have to meet the Red Sox seven times, four in Fenway Park. Before that, however, the Yankees will engage the four western clubs in eight games at Yankee Stadium, meeting each club twice.

The third place Chicago White Sox, a game and a half off the pace, will be met Friday and Saturday, following Kansas City into the stadium. Then will come Cleveland for a Sunday doubleheader and Detroit in single games next Tuesday and Wednesday.

The next five days may be fateful ones for Boston, too. Starting tomorrow, the Red Sox play tough Detroit twice, Cleveland twice and meet the White Sox in a doubleheader Sunday.

While the Red Sox have been playing .667 ball during the past 10 days to slice two full games off the various pace-makers' leads, the Yankees have been able to play no better than .550 ball, splitting their last 14 games.

The Indians and White Sox have proved no less erratic. The Indians, too, were playing .500 ball through 10 games until they captured four of the five holiday weekend games. The White Sox, with four losses in their last five games and nine in their last 15, fell from first to third, only a game and a half ahead of the Red Sox.

Marion Optimistic

Chicago manager Marty Marion, however, is still optimistic over his team's chances.

"The schedule still helps us," he said. "I realiae we must play most of our remaining games on the road but we've got 10 games against Kansas City and Baltimore, and we're just about due to break out against them.

"We have a good chance to win," he added, "but we've got to get real pitching the rest of the way. So does Cleveland and Boston because none of us has the personnel or team speed of the Yanks. Stengel has replacements. He never lets a guy wear himself out. He never has to put a tired team in the field."

Operation Saved Don

Don Bessent, the young hurler brought up by the Dodgers and winner of six straight from the Brooks, was paralyzed from the waist down back in 1951. An operation on his vertebrae saved him.

Robin Roberts Has Given Up 35 Home Runs

Gromek Of Tigers Is Tagged For 25

NEW YORK, Sept. 6 (AP)—Philadelphia's Robin Roberts and Steve Gromek of the Detroit Tigers, the gopher ball leaders of the major leagues in 1954, are up to their old grooving habits again this season.

Roberts, who allowed 35 home runs a year ago, already has been solved for 35 round-trippers to top the National League. Gromek has given up the most home runs in the American League, 25, after being tagged for 26 during the 1954 campaign.

Hacker Grooves 34

Warren Hacker of the Chicago Cubs is giving Roberts stiff competition in the gopher department, having grooved 34 home run serves. Hacker, too, is no Johnny-come-lately to this group as his 35 homers allowed were the most by a National League pitcher in 1953.

It must be noted, however, that Roberts has pitched 276 innings, the most of any pitcher in the majors. On the other hand, Hacker has worked 201 innings, an equivalent of eight fewer nine-inning games.

Both Roberts and Hacker are closing in on the major league record of 39 set by Murry Dickson, then of the St. Louis Cards, in 1948. The American League mark is 32 held by Freddie Hutchinson of the Detroit Tigers and also established in 1948.

Banks Likes Robin

Roberts' chief tormentor has been Ernie Banks of the Cubs, who recently broke Vern Stephens' standard for most home runs in a season by a shortstop. Banks has slugged four of his 40 homers off Roberts and Milwaukee's Ed Mathews has hit three of Roberts' offerings out of the park. The Phils' workhorse has yielded one grand-slammer to Wally Moon of the Cards.

Brooklyn's Duke Snider has found the home run range four times off Hacker and George Crowe of Milwaukee and Gil Hodges of the Dodgers have hit three homers apiece off the veteran right-hander. Philadelphia's Andy Seminick and the Cards' Stan Musial have connected for grand-slams off him.

Gromek has experienced difficulties with Eddie Robinson and Mickey Mantle of the Yankees and Cleveland's Larry Doby. Each has propelled three circuit clouts at his expense, but the crafty 35-year-old hurler has failed to issue any bases-loaded homers.

Newcombe Yields 29

Brooklyn's Don Newcombe, more renowned for hitting home runs than for allowing them, ranks third in the National League gophers listing with 29, followed by teammate Carl Erskine with 27. Then come Harvey Haddix of St. Louis and Dickson, now with the Phils, with 25 each.

Art Ditmar of Kansas City is runnerup to Gromek for gopher honors in the American League with 22. Boston teammates Tom Brewer and Frank Sullivan follow with 20 apiece and Cloyd Boyer of the A's and Baltimore's Ed Lopat are next in line in the home runs off-derby with 19 each.

Philadelphia Gets Hockey Franchise

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 6 (AP) — Philadelphia today was granted a franchise in the Eastern Hockey League for the 1955-56 season.

Philadelphia will join Clinton, N. Y; Johnstown, Pa; Washington, D. C., Baltimore and New Haven in the EHL. The new team will play a 60 to 64 game schedule equally divided between home and away games.

Cinci Protest Is Disallowed

Giles Turns Down Interference Claim

CINCINNATI, Sept. 6 (AP)—Warren C. Giles, president of the National League, today turned down the protest of Cincinnati Manager Birdie Tebbetts of a ball game played with Milwaukee Sept. 4. The Braves won 5 to 2.

Giles said he could not consider the protest because it "involved an umpire's decision."

Tebbetts played the game under protest after Bill Bruton of Milwaukee ran into shortstop Roy McMillan at second base in the first inning. The Redleg manager claimed interference. Umpire Augie Donatelli said there was no interference.

Donatelli, in a written report to President Giles, said:

"In the last half of the first inning with Milwaukee at bat, Bill Bruton on first base and Danny O'Connell batting, O'Connell hit a very slow ball past the mound toward second base almost in a direct line. Bruton was off on a hit-and-run play, or off with the pitch. The ball being slowly hit enabled Bruton to reach second base safely and I called him safe. Roy McMillan was coming over to field the ball and, on the move, reached down to pick up the ground ball after I had called Bruton safe. Bruton went into second base standing up, after which the ball hit McMillan's glove. Then McMillan and Bruton made contact on the base and McMillan dropped the ball. The contact was made by McMillan a split second after McMillan had touched the ball."

First Big Ten Game Telecast On Sept. 24

CHICAGO, Sept. 6 (AP)—The Michigan State-Indiana football game at Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 24 will be the first of five games to be televised regionally by CBS, Big Ten Commissioner K. L. Wilson announced today.

Wilson said that because of conflicts with other programs, the start of the game has been moved back to 3:30 p. m. EST.

He said CBS will select the other four games for regional television after the season opens Sept. 24. Other regional dates include Oct. 8, Oct. 22, Nov. 5 and Nov. 23.

Lyons Pilots Winner, Salary Is Doubled

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 6 (AP) — Ted Lyons, acting manager of the Memphis Chicks, got his salary doubled when the Chicks won the Southern Assn. pennant.

The front office promptly upped Lyons' pay to $2.

"But it could've been worse," said Chick General Manager Glen Miller, spotting the silver lining. "He could've got only $1. That's what his contract called for, you know."

The contract was signed Aug. 3 when Lyons, lent to the Chicks by the parent Chicago White Sox, took over for injured manager Jack Cassini.

When the team, under Lyons, went on to win the flag, Miller promptly hiked his acting manager's salary to $2.

"That makes him probably the only manager in baseball who got his salary doubled for winning a pennant," Miller said.

Lyons is on the Sox payroll as a coach.

Tabori Sets Record For 1,500 Meters

OSLO, Sept. 6 (AP) — Hungary's Laszlo Tabori, one of the world's five four-minute milers, bettered the listed world record by a full second tonight as he nosed out Denmark's Gunnar Nielsen in a spectacular finish to a thrilling 1,500 meter race.

The lean, 24-year old Hungarian charged from behind to beat the flying Dane by inches in 3:40.8. Nielsen also was given the same time over the lightning fast Bislett Stadium track.

John Landy of Australia holds the record of 3:41.8 for the metric mile but Hungary's Sandor Iharos who watched tonight's thriller, has a 3:40.8 clocking up for recognition. He turned in that time in Helsinki, July 28.

Norway's Audun Boysen, owner of the world 1,000 meter mark, was third in 3:48.4 and England's Alan Gordon fourth in 3:48.6, in the eight man field.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 6 (INS)—Tony Martin is older than Russ Columbo was when he died—but man, oh man—what he'll do to those wonderful songs Russ made world famous, "I Surrender Dear," "Prisoner Of Love" and all the others. Just heard it's definite now that Tony will star in the screen story based on the life of the singer who was the adored of the twenties fans and whose romance with Carole Lombard was an idyll of those days.

Producer Maurice Duke long ago closed for the rights to "The Story Of Russ Columbo" with the remaining family of the singer, whose career was tragically halted at its peak when he was accidentally shot by a close friend. He once had Johnny Desmond penciled in and Russ' sister was strong for Johnny. Koch and Schenck will make it for United Artists.

The glowing reports about Anita Ekberg from Rome sound like they were written by a press agent. I hear both Audrey Hepburn and Mel Ferrer are crazy about her, she's so cooperative in "War and Peace" and so eager to please everyone.

"Anita," said my friend who wrote to me, "has more wolf whistles in Rome than she had even in Hollywood. The Italian men just stand in line to admire her."

Anita took Arlene Dahl's place in "War and Peace" when Arlene became too ill to fly to Rome for the picture.

Snaps: Stanford Whitmore, with the $80,000 recently earned for "Solo," which was sold to 20th Century-Fox, is marrying Sylvia Taper, of the MGM censorship department. They will take that money and go to Europe.

James Dean is all but set for the Rocky Graziano role. The Australian boy, Rod Taylor, was good, but MGM wants Dean.

Dmitri Tiomkin's new car was completely wrecked when another car ran through a red signal and crashed into Tiomkin, who was lucky enough to come off only badly shaken up.

Warners, I'm pretty certain, have definitely signed Patty McCormack, who plays the little monster in "The Bad Seed."

Debbie Reynolds, her mother and her best friend, Jeanette Johnson, spend two weeks vacationing at Lake Tahoe.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

On The Line

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK, Sept. 6 (INS) — One organization that is positive the new Russian smile is as phony as a three dollar bill is the Political Research Project, a branch of the Committee to Combat Soviet Kidnapings.

The Reds, the organization's latest warning says, are out to "neutralize, infiltrate and engulf." The primary objective of the Soviet peaceful co-existence campaign is to neutralize the increasingly effective political counter offensive of the West. The report adds:

"This has the dual effect of demobilizing western anti-Communist public opinion and discouraging the rising resistance of the enslaved peoples, who have looked to the West for moral support in their fight against Communist dictatorship and who constitute the most serious threat to world communism today. The peaceful co-existence policy further isolates Asia from Western influence and fosters the neutralist policy which makes possible Communist infiltration on a large scale."

Why are the Russians seemingly eager to please us all of a sudden? The report thinks there is panic in the Kremlin, "an increasingly explosive situation is developing within the Soviet Union, the chief causes of which are internal and psychological. These include instability and weakness of the present leadership.

"A continuous struggle for power is going on. The totalitarian pyramid built up for 25 years by Stalin concentrated power in one man so firmly that when he died there remained only an unwieldy system based on terror, near the top of which sat a group of yes-men trained in deceit and betrayal.

"For self-preservation, Stalin's closest collaborators established a collective leadership (officially called council of ministers but actually the central committee of the communist party and its presidium). The immediate struggle for power began with the alliance of Khrushchev and Malenkov against Beria who constituted a threat because of his secret police apparatus."

The report goes into the question of resistance within Russia to Kremlin rule.

"Stalin's death activated latent resistance, it gained momentum after the spectacular fall of Beria and the purge of the MVD. The large scale revolts at Borkuta and other major slave labor camps in Siberia in August, 1953, initiated the new trend toward active organized resistance, which has been steadily growing throughout the Soviet Union.

"The demands of the prisoners confirmed the fact that this resistance is based less on economic causes than on the desire for individual freedom and respect for personal dignity.

"Communism is failing in Russia where it most hoped to succeed —with the new generation. Young people in the Soviet Union have learned by experience the contrast between Communist promises and performance. Young Russians today are turning away from communism, which they consider reactionary, and are seeking real democratic freedom. Evidence of this is found in student organizations for liberation, including cells at the University of Moscow and the University of Kazan, and (here's an astonishing statistic) the majority of the 15,000,000 inmates of slave labor camps are between the ages of 19 and 25."

The report notes that half the members of the crew of a Russian tanker captured last year by the free Chinese have decided to remain on Formosa and the other half returned home only because their families were being persecuted.

As for the Red army, the political research project states that it is so riddled with dissension that its troops refused to fire on rioting East Germans in the revolt of two summers ago and there are constant cases of desertion. The report recalls that 3,000,000 Soviet soldiers surrendered to the Germans in World War II, considering them liberators.

Contract Bridge

by Josephine Culbertson

GOOD MATCH-POINT TACTICS

EAST'S bidding in the deal below was a model of good tactics, particularly for match-point duplicate.

East dealer.

Both sides vulnerable.

	♠ Q 8 4 ♥ 10 9 5 2 ♦ 8 3 ♣ J 10 9 6
♠ J 7 3 ♥ K J 6 ♦ A K 9 5 4 ♣ 7 2	N W E S	♠ 5 ♥ Q 7 4 3 ♦ Q J 10 6 2 ♣ A Q 3
	♠ A K 10 9 6 2 ♥ A 8 ♦ 7 ♣ K 8 5 4

This was the auction at the table in reference:

East	South	West	North
Pass	1 ♠	Dble.	Pass
2 ♠	3 ♠	Pass	Pass
4 ♦	Pass	Pass	Pass

Since East had passed originally, any action by West over one spade was obviously a gamble, but at match-point duplicate most experts habitually take such risks. A two-diamond overcall by West would have been indefensible; the double was much less dangerous. If East could respond in hearts, that would doubtless be a better contract than diamonds; and if East had to bid clubs, West then could decide whether to rescue in diamonds.

Actually, since East had a hand that was only a little short of opening-bid requirements, he made the shrewd response of a cue bid in the opponents' suit, announcing a hand which was as good as it could be in the light of his previous pass. Then, on the next round, East showed his diamond suit, and West was quite satisfied with a four-diamond contract.

By playing the hand properly—specifically by leading up to dummy's hearts instead of laying down an honor from that hand and having it killed by South's ace—East actually made five-odd, and he earned a very good match-point score even without reaching game.

South could have made four spades as the cards lay, but this would have involved the virtual double-dummy play of finessing against the jack of spades to dummy's eight-spot, to create an extra entry in dummy for the needed two club leads from that hand.

Planes, Chemicals Lead Market To Record High

NEW YORK, Sept. 6 (AP)—With a strong forward kick, the stock market today set a new record high.

Since late in July the Stock Market has been going through its fourth reaction of the year. Today when it again neared its old peaks there was a rush of buying that sent prices up strongly.

Brokers said there was nothing specifically new in the economic or political picture that affected the market today. It was just a case, they said, of the market generating new buying enthusiasm with its own vigorous forward movement.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks last July 25 hit a record high mark of. $177.00. Then it dropped back in a reaction. A bottom was reached Aug. 9, and then the climb back began. Today the average raced past the old high with a gain of $1.30 at $177.70, highest level the average ever has attained.

The industrial component was up $2.00 at a new high of $250.90, railroads were ahead $1.30, but the utilities remained unchanged.

Aircrafts and chemicals led the advance, and steels and nonferrous metals were heavily traded at higher prices.

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Television And Radio

by John Crosby

One Summer Evening

I was thumbing through the Herald Tribune's TV magazine recently to see what was afoot on television on a pleasant summer day. You want to know what was afoot? Well, here are just a few of the thumbnail plots of TV shows that occupied the air all within a space of a few hours.

"Dangerous Encounter. Robert Cannon accepts an invitation to a noble Spanish house for a political story but finds his headline written in poison."

"First Run Theater. 'A Time To Kill.' A young chemist phones his doctor when he realizes the drinks he and a woman guest are having contain poison."

"The Whistler. Too much ambition drives a successful businessman to crime."

"Stage 7. 'End of the Line' with Maria Riva. Story of a girl marked for death. She has furnished an alibi for a man who has committed homicide and subsequently, the guilty one, fearing she may some day reveal the secret, orders her death."

"Mr. and Mrs. North. 'On the Rocks.' Story of a noisy murder on a quiet weekend."

"City Detective. Story about the blackmailing of a kindly aunt and a man who plays a dangerous double game."

"Loretta Young Show. It is the story of a woman left alone in a desolate weather station on Cape Cod and her encounter with an escapee from a mental sanitarium."

"The Hunter. Crime drama starring Barry Nelson."

"Inspector Mark Saber. 'Hanging Husband.' A man's accusation that his wife and her lover are trying to murder him seems exaggerated."

"Surprise Theater. 'I Killed That Man.'" Story of a young D.A. who tries to get the goods on a prominent politician suspected of murder."

"Summer Theater. A private detective is hired as a bodyguard by the beautiful wife of a gangster who fears her husband is trying to kill her."

That's just a sample of the fare offered in one city (New York) on a single summer Sunday evening from the hours of 8:30 to midnight. It does seem a trifle excessive, doesn't it? Frankly, I think it's been too hot a summer for all that homicide. Homicide is winter sport, my mother always told me. Summertime, you should do quieter things like boating and maybe a little embezzlement.

Summertime is also the time for love and I'm happy to report that there is plenty of that going around. The summer breezes soften the authors' hearts and just possibly their brains a little bit. I have recently watched two plain love stories that were so entirely unadorned that I began to wonder how they were going to spin them out for an hour.

In one of them, "Spring Reunion," on Goodyear Playhouse, a girl discovers that it's pleasanter lying in a young man's arms than going golfing with her father, a revelation that I thought came to most young ladies the day they were born.

In the other one a hayseed from

Card of Thanks

To our many friends and neighbors we give our sincere thanks for their kind deeds and helpfulness during our sorrow at the recent death of our son and brother, Carl E. Griffiths.
The Thomas Griffiths Family

In Memoriam

In memory of our dear father, James E. Twigg, who passed away, Sept. 7, 1947.
One by one they go before us,
They are fading like the dew,
But we know they are watching o'er us,
They, the good, the fair, the true.
They are waiting for us only,
Where no pain can ever mar,
Dear ones who left us lonely
Watch us through the gates ajar;
There a father, there a mother
Gone within those gates afar.
The Children: Thurman, Kermit, Phyllis, Mrs. Ervin Shrout

Manslaughter Charge Filed Against Driver

Kinser Released From Hospital

The 54-year-old driver of a car involved in the fatal crash on Oldtown Road August 31 which killed Charles A. Keech and his 11-year-old son, Charles Jr., yesterday was charged with manslaughter by motor vehicle.

Lundy Thomas Kinser, Route 1, Oldtown, posted $1,000 bond for his appearance for trial during the October term of court in Allegany County on the manslaughter charge.

County Investigator Edwin R. Lilya swore out the warrant charging that Kinser "in a grossly negligent manner did kill and slay" Keech—prominent South End pharmacist who owned and operated Keech's Pharmacy at 602 Virginia Avenue—and his son by motor vehicle. The warrant was issued by Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason who set the bond on the misdemeanor charge when the state prayed a jury trial.

Released From Hospital

Kinser, who was released yesterday morning from Memorial Hospital where he had been a patient, suffering from chest injuries as a result of the two-car collision, was questioned at length in the State's Attorney's office upon his release.

Two other witnesses to the crash also were questioned by authorities who received signed statements from Kinser and the witnesses.

Lilya said Kinser told him he was driving alone along Route 51 toward the service station in the vicinity of which the accident occurred, where he intended to get gas and oil for his car.

The lone survivor of the crash said he did not see anyone approaching as he attempted to turn left into the service station.

Keech and his son, both of whom resided at 514 Ridgewood Avenue, were traveling toward Oldtown when their car rammed into the Kinser auto almost head-on. The crash happened about 8 p. m. near the Gerald Lewis farm along Route 51, about one-half mile west of Oldtown.

Boy Died Instantly

The boy was riding in the front seat of his father's sports roadster, said Tfc. Jack Browning of the Maryland State Police who investigated. He was killed almost instantly when he was thrown against the windshield of the low-slung car.

Keech died of internal chest injuries suffered when he was thrown forward against the steering column of his car. The boy died of a fractured skull.

Relatives reported Keech was traveling toward Oldtown to his summer camp when the fatal mishap occurred.

A solemn high mass for the two victims was held Monday at 9 a. m. in St. Mary's Catholic Church and they were buried in the church cemetery.

Street Gets Face-Lifting

Kelly Boulevard, West Side thoroughfare which carries traffic to the Potomac Edison power plant and the Kelly Springfield Tire Company plant, is undergoing a huge face-lifting job by the E. J. Albrecht Company of Chicago as part of the over-all flood control plan. Workmen here are hauling huge shovels of dirt from the torn-up street with a small earth mover and a crane shovel. The street and sidewalks are torn up from the intersection with Avirett Avenue at the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad tracks back to the turn at the Potomac River's edge. The street has been dug out for a depth of several feet in preparation to a general raising of the level of the street to a point even with the adjacent railroad tracks at the right. The work is being done in conjunction with the future flood levee which will be erected along the river banks. Meanwhile traffic is detoured out Lehigh Street from Avirett Avenue and up Water Street to its intersection with the boulevard at a point to the rear of the crane shovel.

Local Woman Hospitalized In Stabbing

Dorothy Rockwell Reported "Fair"

A local man was being held in City Jail last night for investigation in the stabbing of a woman who resides on Fifth Street.

Reported in "fair" condition at Memorial Hospital is Dorothy Rockwell, 33, of 17 Fifth Street, who was reported stabbed in the back.

Attaches at the hospital said the victim was stabbed under the right ribs and was admitted for observation. City Police received a call at 9:30 p. m. to the effect that a stabbing had occurred at 1414 River Avenue.

Police Officers John G. Powers and Harry Iser, were sent to the home and found the victim lying face down on the porch at 1418 River Avenue.

She was rushed to the hospital by the two officers. Meanwhile Fadley was apprehended at the home of his mother by Sgt. Clarence Roby and Officer Royce Clayton.

Police Detective Joseph Stitcher, and Officers Kenneth W. Morrissey and Carl Williams also went to the scene. Officer Morrissey gave this account of the stabbing:

Mrs. Fadley was alone at her home, when her son and Mrs. Rockwell came into the residence.

The victim asked Mrs. Fadley if she had a fountain pen. Mrs. Fadley replied that she did and that it was in her pocketbook.

The victim got the fountain pen and returned to a small table in the center of the front room where she was reportedly stabbed in the back by Fadley and fell to the floor.

Meanwhile Fadley ran from the house. A small son of Mrs. Rockwell saw her lying on the floor and screamed. Mrs. Fadley ran into the room and saw the victim lying on the floor. Mrs. Rockwell got up and ran out into the street toward 1418 River Avenue where she collapsed and later was found by police.

Officer Morrissey, upon investigation, found a small penknife under a china closet in the front room of the Fadley home.

Fadley, who told police he was working in Winchester, Va., will be taken to the State's Attorney's office for questioning.

Bishop Walsh's Offered Release Pleases Family

Red China Promises Him Exit Visa

Local relatives of Catholic Bishop James Edward Walsh said yesterday they were delighted to learn their brother may leave Communist China if he wishes.

William C. Walsh, former Attorney General of Maryland and former chief judge of the Maryland Court of Appeals, and Miss Mary C. Walsh, librarian of the Cumberland Free Public Library, both expressed pleasure at the news concerning their brother whom they last saw in January 1947.

"It is simply wonderful news," Miss Walsh exclaimed. "We are overjoyed. To tell you the honest truth I haven't come down to earth since hearing the news. We are simply delighted. The English language just doesn't have the proper words to describe our feelings."

Is Free To Leave

The Communists announced in Geneva, Switzerland, yesterday that the 64-year-old bishop may leave Shanghai by applying for an exit visa.

An International News Service dispatch from Geneva said that Bishop Walsh, one of the first Maryknoll missionaries to go to China, will return home on orders of his superiors at mission headquarters at Maryknoll, N. Y.

He has been under limited house arrest for three years. Bishop Walsh, a native of Cumberland, flew to China during World War II. He headed the Catholic Central Bureau of Shanghai, shut down by the Communists in 1951.

Bishop Walsh has been in China a total of 25 years. He was consecrated a bishop on China's Sanchian Island in 1927.

Brother "Delighted"

Judge Walsh said: "I am delighted to hear that he can come home if he wishes to. I am also pleased with the indication from the news dispatch that my brother is physicially all right."

The bishop's secretary, the Rev. Charles Meeus, allowed to leave China last May, said the bishop was living in cramped quarters with three Chinese priests.

Bishop Walsh was former Father General of the Maryknoll Order of priests with headquarters at Ossining, N.Y.

Another brother is the Rev. John, now in Kentucky. Four other sisters are Mrs. Frank L. Werner and Margaret, of Cumberland and Sisters M. Joseph of Fort Lee, N.J. and M. Rosalia of New York.

3 Trips To China

Bishop Walsh first went to China in 1918, the year his lawyer brother was heading for France in the final year of World War I. He remained there until 1936 when he returned to this country to begin a 10-year stay.

Again in 1948 he returned to the now Red-dominated country where he has remained ever since.

The Cumberland native is the last American Catholic bishop still in China. He also was the first American Catholic bishop for that land.

Since the Catholic Bureau in Shanghai which he directed was shut down in 1951 he has been living under rigorous circumstances with three Chinese priests at the

RC Bloodmobile Unit Collects 154 Pints Here

Fourteen Persons Join Gallon Club

Residents of Cumberland and area answered the call for blood donors yesterday afternoon as some 154 pints of blood were collected, four pints over the regular quota.

Mrs. Charles Helmrich, recruitment chairman, last night reported that during the regular visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile Unit from Johnstown, Pa. some 131 persons out of 269 persons kept their appointments.

However, she added, a number of persons telephoned in stating they would donate blood next month. Yesterday there were 37 "walk-ins" and 14 rejects.

Some 12 persons gave blood for the first time during yesterday's visit of the mobile unit. Mrs. Helmrich reported that there are 14 new members of the Gallon Club including:

Winfield Adam, Bowling Green; Miss Esther N. Bucy, 108 Seymour Street; Joseph Challinor, Bedford Road; Richard Close; Ellerslie; Wilbur L. Hudson, 133 Pennsylvania Avenue.

Kenneth K. Kennedy, 1117 Kentucky Avenue; A. L. Twigg, 801 Camden Avenue; Gerald G. Pase, Cresaptown; Margaret B. Pryor, Williams Road; Mrs. Leo Rice, 109½ Wills Creek Avenue; John H. Smith, 313 Broadway.

Thomas H. Smithen, Braddock Road; John A. Fradiska Sr. and Mrs. James Grant, both of Cresaptown. Physicians on duty yesterday were Dr. W. Royce Hodges and Dr. Carlton Brinsfield.

Mrs. Helmrich pointed out that the bloodmobile unit will return to Cumberland on October 3 and will be located at the Eagles Home on North Mechanic Street from noon until 6 p. m.

The following day the unit will be in Frostburg at the home of Farrady Post, American Legion from noon until 6 p. m. The quota for each day's visit will be 150 pints, she added.

Area Holy Name Group Will Meet

The Western Maryland Section of the Holy Name Society will hold its regular quarterly meeting at 2:30 p. m. Sunday in the social center of St. Patrick's Church.

Will Hold Supper

Short Gap firemen and Ladies Auxiliary will hold a steak supper Saturday at the fire hall from 5 until 8 o'clock.

Carnegie Club Meets

Dale Carnegie Club International will meet in the George Williams room of the Central YMCA at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, according to John Vocke, president.

Chief Morgan Assumes Navy Recruiting Duties

Chief Boatswain's Mate Eugene R. Morgan, USN, has returned to recruiting duty here after an absence of three years.

The veteran of 19 years of naval service will be assuming the duties of petty officer in charge of the local recruiting office. Chief Morgan was previously stationed here as a Navy recruiter from June 1950 until July 1952.

Since that time he has served on board the USS Adriondack, flagship for Admiral Carney who at that time was commander subordinate command, U. S. Naval Forces, Eastern Atlantic and Mediterranean.

During his previous tour of recruiting duty Chief Morgan received a letter of commendation for his outstanding cooperation extended to the U. S. Naval Reserve Training Center, McKaig's Hill. The commendation read in part:

"The highly efficent manner in which Chief Morgan performed his duties was of very material help in enabling this activity to place fourth in the Fifth Naval District recruiting drive."

Traffic Cases Light Despite Long Holiday

Traffic cases in Trial Magistrates Court here yesterday were extremely light considering the long three-day Labor Day holiday just ended and the fact the court had been closed since last Friday.

Magistrate Donald W. Mason heard eight motor cases, four for exceeding the speed limit and four for reckless driving, with two of the latter charges being dismissed.

Magistrate J. Milton Dick heard only three motor cases, two for exceeding speed limits and one for failure to give right of way.

The nine convictions brought fines of $90.

County Obtains $800,000 Check For School Use

A check from the State of Maryland for $800,000 to continue the current school construction program was received yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners and will be forwarded to the Board of Education.

This $800,000 will bring to a little less than $3,000,000 the amount the county has borrowed from the state to finance the $3,500,000 program started in 1953. This latest check will cover part of the expenses for construction of the new Bruce High School at Westernport.

The commissioners yesterday also received a copy of an agreement dated July 28 involving the State Roads Commission, the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company and the county commissioners for construction of an access road and bridge to the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company site at North Branch.

The B&O will pay 10 per cent of the cost of the bridge only while the Federal Bureau of Public Roads will partially share with the county commissioners in the rest of the cost. The total bill is expected to approach $500,000.

Commissioners William H. Lemmert and James Orr voted to accept the $299.95 bid of the Sterling Electric Company for a new refrigerator for Sheriff Edward R. Muir's quarters at the County Jail.

A check was authorized by Whitman and Cessna, painting contractors, for some $1,100 to cover expenses of painting the exterior of the Cumberland Free Public Library.

Mrs. Ann McGann of Mt. Savage complained about water running off New Row onto her property.

Fike Involved In Tavern Brawl

Clyde F. Fike, 32, of 123 Frederick Street, forfeited $20 bond in Police Court yesterday morning on a disorderly conduct charge following a fight Monday night in a North Centre Street tavern.

Fike was found not guilty September 1 in Allegany County Circuit Court in the death of Mrs. Daisy Priddy, 45-year-old waitress, who died in Memorial Hospital July 23 shortly after being struck by a chair thrown by Fike in a fight at the South End Republican Club.

City Police said Fike and his brother, DeLeon Fike, of 124 Frederick Street, were involved in a brawl Monday with John S. Alburtis of 122 South Mechanic Street. Officer Kenneth W. Morrissey who investigated, arrested Alburtis and the Fike brothers gave themselves up at Police Headquarters later. Alburtis and DeLeon Fike also forfeited $20 bonds in court yesterday.

Trial Magistrate J. Milton Dick indicated later he would make a report of the incident to the State's Attorney's office.

To Name President

The Allegany County Tuberculosis Association's executive board will meet Thursday at 3:30 p.m. in offices in the County Building on Union Street to name a new president for the group, replacing Leo Delaney, who resigned recently.

Integration Gets Under Way In Public Schools

No Pupils Report At Lincoln

A precedent was set quietly yesterday as a majority of the Negro children of Allegany County began classes in previously all-white public schools of the county.

Miss Kathleen Cooper, who has taught Frostburg Negro boys and girls at the Lincoln Elementary School for a number of years, had none in her classroom yesterday. They had all enrolled at Beall Elementary of Hill Street School in Frostburg or at Eckhart School.

Enrollment Down

Enrollment at Carver School here also was down sharply from last year's 220. There were 63 in the elementary grades and 50 on the high school level yesterday, a total of 113 pupils.

Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster said that some new teaching assignment will be found for Miss Cooper but that has not yet been determined.

Another decision faces the superintendent concerning the status of the senior high school classes at Carver. Nearly all of the 50 in high school at Carver are in the three junior high school years.

Extreme doubt remains as to whether a senior high school program can be operated at Carver with the present small enrollment.

One Negro Boy

The integration program brought an oddity at Bruce High School in Westernport. Among the 618 enrolled for the first day—324 boys and 294 girls—there was one Negro boy.

In Cumberland crowded conditions prevented enrollment of Negro students in the junior high grades, in the first four grades at West Side and Columbia Street schools, and in all of Gephart School.

At Fort Hill High School, the pre-school registration of 14 Negro students in the upper three grades remained the same, according to enrollment figures compiled this morning.

In Prince Georges, about 60 Negroes went to schools with whites without incident. It was the same in Washington where 73 joined whites in seven schools.

Harry Kanowicz, principal of the Elmer Wolfe Elementary and High School in Carroll County, said parents of two white children protested integration. But he said it was only because they misunderstood the Supreme Court ruling that public school segregation is

Rotarians Hear Talks On Schools

The Cumberland Rotary Club yesterday had an appropriate meeting for the first day of school—a panel discussion by five school officials who also are Rotarians on the school program of Allegany County.

Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster began with a brief discussion of the administration of the program here.

Joseph T. Downey, supervisor of maintenance, then told of the work that is done during the summer months to assure proper maintenance of the buildings through the school year. Six county schools have been rewired completely in the past several years he said.

W. Valgene Routch, supervisor of music education, talked about the benefits of music to the child from the standpoint of cultural development an in self-expression.

Theodore P. Foote, supervisor of art education, explained how art helps develop the creative ability of children, especially on the elementary school level.

Finally, Lewyn C. Davis, supervisor of junior high schools, discussed teacher problems with emphasis upon the summer school work that they must take to keep themselves certified. He said that the teacher turnover in this county is only about seven per cent, including resignations, retirements and maternity leaves.

Guests were John Buchanan, a visiting Rotarian from Altoona, and William Davis III, a guest of Simon Rosenbaum.

PTA Workshop Set Here Tonight

A workshop for all officers, committee chairmen and interested members of Parent Teacher Association units in the county will be held at 8 o'clock tonight at West Side School.

A panel will discuss programs, purpose and policies of the PTA, along with the relationship of the individual associations with the county, state and national organizations, and the relationship and responsibility of members and associations with schools and school boards.

Each person who attends is asked to write his questions in advance, so that these can be submitted to the panel for answers and discussion.

According to Mrs. Lester McGill, county PTA Council president, letters announcing the workshop have been sent to all association presidents.

The Annual Short Course for Water and Sewage Plant Operafors, sponsored by the Maryland-Delaware Water and Sewage Association and the Chesapeake Section of the American Water Works Association, will be held September 14-16 at the College of Engineering, University of Maryland, College Park.

Three courses will be taught by authorities from the two state health departments and by supervisors of large water and sewerage facilities in Maryland and Delaware.

Those attending will have the opportunity to inspect the Greenbelt Sewage Treatment Plant to review its operation and to discuss operating problems with plant personnel.

Weather

A pleasant early September day was recorded yesterday as the official high at Constitution Park got up to 87, the high for the month. The low was 58 and at 7:30 the reading was 76 degrees. For today the prediction is for generally fair weather, becoming cooler and less humid in the west. The high will range between 76 and 82 degrees.

Integration Starts At East Side

Yesterday was a significant day in the annals of public education in Allegany County as Negro and white children attended classes together for the first time in 11 of the county's schools. The picture above was taken at East Side Elementary School where an interracial group may be seen entering the building. About 150 of the approximately 270 Negro children in the county attended schools yesterday which were previously used exclusively by white children.
